U.S. World War I Draft Registrations

On 18 May 1917, Congress passed the Selective Service Act authorizing the President to draft men into military service. The Selective Service System (SSS) was responsible for the process of selecting men for induction into the military service, from the initial registration to the actual delivery of men to military training camps.

During World War I, there were three registrations. The first was on 05 Jun 1917, and registered men between the ages of 21 and 31. The second was on 05 Jun 1918, and registered men who had turned 21 since 05 Jun 1917 (a supplemental registration on 24 Aug 1918, registered those becoming 21 since 05 Jun 1918). The third registration was held on 12 Sep 1918 and registered men 18 through 45. So, all men born between 1872 and September 1900 who were not in active military service by June 1917 filled out draft registration cards, whether they were native born, naturalized or alien.

There were five World War I draft classifications, but they were not the straight-forward arrangement that we all remember from later wars. Every registrant was considered belonging to Class I until his status giving him the right of deferred classification was fully established. So, all registrants were in Class 1 unless they were granted a deferment.

After signing of the armistice on 11 Nov 1918, the activities of the Selective Service System were rapidly curtailed. On 27 Nov 1918, the Provost Marshal General ordered that selective service organizations be closed and that records of draft boards and state headquarters be forwarded to Washington. By 31 Mar 1919, all local, district and medical advisory boards were closed, and in 1919 the last state headquarters closed operations. The Provost Marshal general was relieved from duty on 15 Jul 1919, thereby finally terminating the activities of the SSS of World War I.

Self-Stick Notes Should Not be Used

The National Archives has recommended that no removable self-stick notes be used on any paper that has permanent value. The lab examined 3M Scotch Post-it Notes and AMB brand Note Pads and found that adhesive remained on papers to which the notes were adhered - even when they were removed immediately. This remaining adhesive could cause important records to stick together. In addition, as the chemicals in the adhesive break down over time, they can deteriorate the paper and make printing illegible. The lab also found that the adhesive lifted photocopied images after two weeks of aging and that some of the colors of the notes run when wet.

Kansas Council of Genealogical Societies, Oct 1995.

Reading Old Documents can be Confusing

Through the years words used to describe relationships, nationalities and occupations have changed. This can make reading old documents very confusing. The following are some terms which were used in the past.

Alias Usually meant illegitimacy. The surnames of the father and mother were joined. It did not have a criminal meaning.

Senior or Junior These modern day terms refer to father and son, however, in colonial times it could have referred to two men living in the same area, the older being called Senior and the younger one Junior, even though they were not related. It could also refer to father and son.

Niece	This could refer to any female relative, but usually to a granddaughter.
Nephew	This could be an illegitimate son, but usually a grandson.
Cousin	A nephew or an uncle was often called cousin.
Brother	The term brother was used when referring to an adopted brother, an in-law or it could mean a lodge or church brother.
Domestic	A wife was called a domestic because she was "at home".
Gentleman	A male with an independent income - a pensioner.
Inmate	This did not refer to a person in prison but to someone who did not own the real estate on which he resided.
Crazy	Used to refer to a person who was ill or in poor health, but not necessarily mentally
Sawyer	One who saws or makes boards. Saws lumber.
Cordwainer	A shoemaker or one who works with leather.
Moiety	A woman inherits her moiety, usually a half.
Cognate	Related by birth; of the same parentage, descent; related on the mother's side.
Coelebs	Single.
Cognatus	Related by birth; kinsman or kinswoman.
Stepmother	Could mean mother-in-law.
Housekeeper	Once meant property owner and could be used for either a male or a female.

1882 KANKAKEE COUNTY DEATHS

Taken from the Kankakee Gazette (publication date in parentheses).

(23 Nov 1882) In Rockville, Sept. 19, of inflammatory rheumatism, Sarah C. Flint, aged 10 years.

(23 Nov 1882) In Limestone, Kankakee county, Ill., of diphtheria, Calvin Robert Mapes, son of Henry and Jane Mapes, aged 1 year, 11 months and 7 days, a most beautiful, interesting and promising child. The funeral services were held at the Stone school house. Sermon preached by Dr. N. H. Axtell, from the text, Mal. 3.17, "They shall be mine, said the Lord of hosts in that day when I make up my jewels."

(23 Nov 1882) We noted last week the departure of Mrs. Judge Starr for Portland, ME, to attend the funeral of her brother, A. E. Stevens. Mr. Stevens (who is known to some of our citizens from several visits to this city, and whose daughter spent the winter here with Judge Starr's family two years ago) was a prominent man in Portland, whose name will always be identified with the history of that place by virtue of his holding the office of mayor at the time of the great fire of 1866 when nearly the entire city was destroyed. In that memorable fire his property was included in the few squares which escaped the flames. Two weeks ago a large conflagration visited that section and swept away all the property not injured by the fire of 1866, Mr. Stevens being a heavy loser. Returning to his home a few evenings after the last fire he sat down awaiting the call for supper when suddenly he ceased speaking, his head dropped backward and he was dead. The doctors called it heart disease. His age was 57 years. He was greatly respected in the highest commercial and social circles.

(07 Dec 1882) In St. Anne, Nov. 20, of diphtheria, Emma Depatis, aged 9 years.

(07 Dec 1882) Peter Cheffre, a resident of this city since 1865, and a stone cutter by trade, met his death last Tuesday evening in a violent manner. In attempting to sit down upon the low iron railing skirting the entrance of Cruise's produce depot, he lost his balance and fell over backward, striking on his head in the area below. He was picked up in a semi-unconscious state with the blood issuing from his nostrils, and carried into Cruise's where he remained a couple of hours, awaiting the arrival of the family physician. It was believed by those who saw him that he would shortly recover, as no outward injuries were visible. At five o'clock he was removed to his home where Doctors Fraser and Uran soon after saw him. He remained unconscious up to the hour of his death which occurred at half past ten, and which was caused by concussion of the brain.

EAST OTTO - 1882

Taken from the Kankakee Gazette, November 30, 1882.

Two (a boy of four and a girl of fifteen) children of Guy Huckins have been down with the diphtheria. They are both very little better at present.

Isaac Pruitt met with a painful accident on last Thursday. He had been out to the barn milking, and the oil having burned out in the lantern, he blew out the light and started for the house in the dark. He stumbled and fell into a pile of stumps cutting a fearful gash just over the eye and down across the nose. A doctor was immediately called and sewed up the gap. He is doing as well as could be expected.

PILOT - 1882

Taken from the Kankakee Gazette, December 7, 1882.

Jacob Oberlin's residence on Main street is rapidly approaching completion. It is very neat. Harvey Erwin is doing the work.

School will commence in the village tomorrow. A young man from Salina named Krollman will teach. The lower part of the hall building has been fitted up and will be used as a school room. In the Hubbard district a Mr. Merrill living near Eldrigeville will teach commencing next Monday. Miss Anna Kane will teach in the Karcher district and Miss Amy Trescott in the Frink district.

Mrs. Jennie Hubbard has a new Patterson organ. It has sixteen stops, and a very good tone. Mr. Hiram Gruver, of Aroma, was in town a few days ago selling mathematical charts to schools.

LOCAL MISCELLANY - 1882

Taken from the Kankakee Gazette, November 23, 1882.

A seven-year old son of Almon Beebe, of Aroma, fell from a fence last Thursday and broke both bones of his right forearm.

The profile map of the Three I railroad shows that the barrens west of Kankakee are the highest point of land in the county, as well as on the line of the railroad.

A post-office has been located at Goodrich station on the Three I road and J. W. Zink has been appointed postmaster. His salary will be added to our opera house fund.

George Meythaler, yardman for the Illinois Central, got his hand caught between the couplings of a freight car last Tuesday and so badly smashed that he will lose two fingers.

John Robinson, the plasterer, fell down cellar the other night, quicker than you could say his own name, and sprained his knee and ankle, skinned his other leg, barked his forehead, lacerated his feelings and broke him all up generally.

Elmer Lowe, son of P. V. Lowe, of this city, now attending school at Poughkeepsie, had a narrow escape from suffocation one morning last week. During the night the coal gas escaped from the stove and when the absence of himself and room-mate from class led to an investigation, the boys were unconscious and nearly dead. It took several days for them to recover.

Taken from the Kankakee Gazette, November 30, 1882.

George Payne, son of A. Payne, of this city, and son-in-law of Uncle Daniel Beebe, died last Sunday at his home in Wesley, Will county, aged about 34 years.

The John Davis company of Chicago have commenced suit in the circuit court in Kankakee county against the Presbyterian church of Kankakee to recover the price of the steam heating apparatus in the church - something like $1000 we believe. The church have refused payment on the ground of alleged non-fulfillment of contract in the unsatisfactory working of the apparatus.

The young wife of Philip Letourneau, formerly day operator of the Illinois Central depot, died in Chicago on the 17th leaving an infant son of three months. Mr. Letourneau has been in town for the past few years.

Taken from the Kankakee Gazette, December 7, 1882.

Townsend came to Kankakee and opened a jewelry store in 1855, and is the oldest dealer in that line in the county. He had kept pace with the progress of trade and for the holidays of 1882 he has opened out a large and handsome stock of every conceivable variety of goods pertaining to his line to which he invites the attention of Christmas buyers.

The county clerk and his blushing young deputy Ed. issued thirty-one permits to marry last month. This means business. It is as good as saying "here comes a flock of new customers for stoves, coal, furniture, dry goods, groceries, drugs and prescriptions, boots and shoes, et cetera". There are some interesting facts connected with these daring seekers after bliss. For instance a man of 41 becomes the support of a clinging vine of 50. Two patriarchs of 18 take unto themselves helpmeets of 16. Then there is a festive lover of 50 who unites his fortunes with a maid of 24, and a still more giddy Romeo who woos his Juliet of 32. The average age of the grooms is 28 and of the brides is 23.

Sheriff Letourneau assumed his official duties last Monday, and removed his family into the court house. He is now in attendance upon the circuit court, with the following deputies for the term; Walter Colton. Joseph Warren, J. E. Langlois, James Moran, Luther Robinson and Walter Mann.

ROCKVILLE - 1882

Taken from the Kankakee Gazette, November 23, 1882.

Geo. Day, David Lowe, and R. H. Watson have had public sales in the past three weeks. Stock and farming implements brought favorable prices. Next Thursday T. C. Dickinson will have a sale. Mr. Day and Mr. Dickinson retire from farming and Mr. Lowe and Mr. Watson will try their luck at farming in Nebraska in the future.

About the first of last July Mr. Robert Kinkaid sowed three bushels of buckwheat, and about two weeks ago Mann Bros. threshed Mr. Kinkaid's crop of buckwheat and it yielded 144 bushels machine measure of nice, clean grain. Bring on your pancakes.

Mr. Eldon Reed has moved on to his homestead claim in Spink county, Dakota, where he will make his future home.

A. E. Courville is teaching the winter term of school in district No. 10. Miss Ada Moore, of Limestone, this county, commenced school in district No. 9, today. Miss Agnes Sterling will teach in No. 5. Miss Jarvis in No. 4, Frank Saltsgiver in No. 7, Fred Mann in the Burchim district.

Taken from the Kankakee Gazette, November 30, 1882.

Mr. John Sampsell has gone to Lisbon, Ohio, and other points where he will spend the winter. John Haymond, formerly a resident of this town, now a resident of Framesville, Ind., spent a couple of days last week among old friends and neighbors.

Myron Magruder will attend school at Kankakee this winter. Miss Ada Moore commenced the winter term of school in No. 8 last week.

LIMESTONE - 1882

Taken from the Kankakee Gazette, November 30, 1882.

The friends of Miss Belle Bratton to the number of thirty gave her a pleasant surprise on her twenty-first birthday.

Miss Nellie Foster is very sick with diphtheria. Mr. Joel Stokes, who has been sick for the past ten days, is now very low.

Taken from the Kankakee Gazette, December 7, 1882.

The little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Smith who was recently dangerously scalded in inhaling the steam from a boiling tea kettle, has nearly recovered.

Mr. Smith has given his new barn an extra coat of paint. and he now has the largest and finest barn in this part of the county.

Social Gatherings were the order by the young people around here last week, there having been an oyster supper and dance at the residence of C. Davis on Wednesday evening; and on Saturday the "old folks" (no disrespect intended to Henry or Charley) and a grand old time celebrating the twenty-fifth anniversary of the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph E. Shreffler at their beautiful home in Limestone, where ample provision had been made for the entertainment of a large number.

RAILROAD JOTTINGS - 1882

Taken from the Kankakee Gazette, November 23, 1882.

The grade for the Kankakee & Seneca's switch track to the coal shaft at Garner is ready for the iron.

Bi Young, formerly a conductor on the Central, was killed on Monday of last week on a road in the southwest part of this State.

Pete Eich, formerly engineer in the I.C. yard here, is now running an engine on construction work between Colfax and Bloomington. Scott Halsey, who has been at work in the Illinois Central's freight department in this city for a year, has thrown up his job and gone to Poughkeepsie, NY, to attend school. Sanford Wright takes his place.

Engineer C. E. Draper, of the Illinois Central, who has been in Chicago, was brought home this week in a very critical condition. His hair turned white in a few hours - Champaign Gazette.

HE WAS NOT DISCHARGED

Taken from the Kankakee Gazette, December 7, 1882.

The Ottawa Republican of Tuesday contains the following paragraph:

Lyman Beardsley, an insane pauper, a former citizen of the town of Serena, has been in the asylum at Kankakee for several years. He made his appearance at the house of George Foreman in Serena last Sunday in a sad condition. He appears to have walked the entire distance from Kankakee, sleeping out in the cold and snow wherever night overtook him. His feet are frozen, one so badly and perhaps both so that amputation may be necessary. His clothing was very thin and wholly insufficient for outdoors at this season. He claims to have been discharged, and he had a small bundle with him containing two clean shirts, evidence supporting his story. If the authorities of the State asylum have done this cruel thing they ought to be exposed and denounced everywhere. Supervisor Flaherty is looking into the facts. Meanwhile he is making the sufferer as comfortable as possible.

The Gazette has inquired into the case above reported and learns that Beardsley escaped from the hospital last July. He was traced to Chebanse or that neighborhood and there lost sign of, and has not been heard of by the hospital authorities since. His present unfortunate condition cannot, therefore, be laid at the door of the institution.

ST. ANNE - 1882

Taken from the Kankakee Gazette, November 30, 1882.

N. Guertin's store has been repainted and an addition built on, and altogether a marked improvement has been made.

Messrs. Coyer & Bouchard will soon open a new butcher shop; also L. Gerard. Mr. Davis, of Clifton, will open a barber shop this week in the old Fearn's office. P. E. Gros' building is nearly finished and adds much to the appearance of Guertin's street.

The Baptist church is being finished off in good style inside. C. Blain is putting up a small dwelling west of his store for one of his tenants.

CONTIGUOUS COMMUNITIES - 1882

Taken from the Kankakee Gazette, December 7, 1882.

Chebanse: Brad Wakeman killed fifty-one rabbits on his place in one day. Dominy Conway died recently from the effect of a horse kick. Joseph Bowman, a renter on R. C. Chapman's farm, two miles north of Chebanse, has skipped, leaving numerous creditors to mourn his loss. So says the Herald.

Cabery: David Murphy, living west of Cabery, fell out of a wagon at Reddick and broke his leg close to the hip. Mr. Winstanley was born in Lancashire, England, in 1815, and came to this country at the age of 16, at 23 he was converted and at once commenced preaching. Richard Mumford is the name of the man who was dragged by his horse last week. He has been unconscious ever since.

BONFIELD - 1882

Taken from the Kankakee Gazette, November 23, 1882.

School in district No. 2 has experienced a revulsion in politics. Last Saturday at a special election for director they elected, by a majority of two to one, a negro to complete the unexpired term.

Messrs. Linten & Morrison have erected a small meat market on Smith street. Miss Sarah Henry has gone to New Jersey to spend the winter visiting friends.

The Bonfield church is without a pastor, the Rev. Mr. Boggess having accepted a call from a Wisconsin elder and gone thither. We have not yet learned who his successor will be.

Prof. Herring, of Kankakee, was down yesterday and set up Verkler's platform scales. Dan Fenstermacher is experimenting with a printing press of his own manufacture. He has obtained a few very good impressions.

Mr. Bally has built a corn house connected with his barn by a wide entry which he will use for a horse stable and carriage house. Mr. Fellwack has moved into his new house which is the most roomy and pleasant in town. Our popular blacksmith, Joe Johnson, has taken possession of his new house without a mate. What shall we do with him, charivari him?

Taken from the Kankakee Gazette, November 30, 1882.

Mr. A. G. Smith's little girl met with a severe accident last week. She inhaled the steam from a boiling tea kettle, burning her mouth and throat severely. Dr. Jolly is in attendance and if her lungs are not so severely burned will soon effect a cure.

Ambrose Charl's little boy, aged about eight, broke his arm last week. Dr. Meyer set the fractured limb and it was doing well at last accounts.

Messrs. Joseph Hertz, John Walter, and Albert Evans started last week for Iowa to spend the winter.

Taken from the Kankakee Gazette, December 7, 1882.

John Verkler is very sick with congestion of the brain. He was taken Saturday morning and is slightly on the mend. Dr. Meyer attributes the cause to the excessive use of tobacco.

School commenced today in district No. 3, Wm. Taylor, teacher. Two families moved into town this week; Mr. Bentz into some of the Doctor's rooms and Mrs. Hertz in the rooms over the saloon. We learn that she will keep boarders.

John Severe is trying railroading again. Billy Foley, head brakeman on the mixed train, smashed his forefinger in making a coupling here last Saturday night.

BUCKINGHAM - 1882

Taken from the Kankakee Gazette, November 23, 1882.

T. B. Armstrong, the liveryman, has added a hearst to his outfit.

Semer Coleman's barn is said to be one of the best in the country. The underpinning consists of a stone wall 18 inches wide and 2¹/₂ feet high. The building is 60 x 42; 21 feet from sill to top of plate. It contains 152 braces and the main timbers are 8% inches square. Studded with 4x4 joists and enclosed with 8 inch ship lap lumber. The cupola is 7x9, 7 feet high. From ground to peak the barn measures 40 feet. The builders are Frank Gilson and G. W. Rickard, both from Brown county, Wisconsin.

John Blair's stable, four miles north of Buckingham, was burned recently together with its contents of train and a valuable cow.

Taken from the Kankakee Gazette, December 7, 1882.

H. M. Cook's store, 24x70, 24 foot posts, is enclosed. Mr. C. intends using the lower story as a store and the upper as a hall - a thing long needed. Mr. C. is enterprising and deserves great credit.

E. V. Farley has painted and refitted his drug store until it shines. Capen & Co. have sold their warehouse to C. W. Johnson, Mr. E. G. Collins running both elevators. Mr. Oulmann attends to the coal trade besides attending to the hardware trade.

Myron Short has been out to Dakota and sought out Mr. Gregory, formerly of Norton. We learn that "Capt. Jenks" of Kenesaw, Neb., formerly of Norton and correspondent of a Kankakee newspaper, is elected to the legislature of that State. We're going to emigrate, sure.

Typhoid fever and the measles are quite plentiful in the vicinity at present. The family of T. Moran are nearly all sick with the fever.

An Old Lady's Poem

What do you see, nurses, what do you see? What are you thinking when you're looking at me? A crabby old woman, not very wise, Uncertain of habit, with faraway eyes?
Who dribbles her food and makes no reply. When you say in a loud voice, "I do wish you'd try!"
Who seems not to notice the things that you do. And forever is losing a stocking or shoe,
Who, resisting or not, lets you do as you will, With bathing and feeding, the long day to fill?
Is that what you're thinking? Is that what you see? Then open your eyes, nurse; you're not looking at me.

I'll tell you who I am as I sit here so still, As I do at your bidding, as I eat at your will.

I'm a small child of ten, with a father and mother, Brothers and sisters, who love one another. A young girl of sixteen, with wings on her feet, Dreaming that soon now a lover she'll meet.

A bride soon at twenty - my heart gives a leap, Remembering the vows that I promised to keep. At twenty-five now, I have young of my own, Who need me to guide, and a secure happy home. A woman of thirty, my young growing fast, Bound to each other with ties that should last.

At forty. my young sons have grown and are gone, But my man's beside me to see I don't mourn.

At fifty once more, babies play round my knee, Again we know children, my loved one and me. Dark days are upon me, my husband is dead: I look at the future, I shudder with dread.

For my young are all rearing young of their own, And I think of the years and the love that I've known. I'm now an old woman, and nature is cruel; 'Tis jest to make old age look like a fool.

The body, it crumbles, grace and vigor depart, There is now a stone where I once had a heart. But inside this old carcass a young girls still dwells, And now and again my battered heart swells. I remember the joys, I remember the pain, And I'm loving and living life over again.

I think of the years, all too few, gone too fast, And accept the stark fact that nothing can last.

So open your eyes, nurses, open and see, Not a crabby old woman; look closer....see ME! a "Mature" Lady

Please share your compassion with everyone who is experiencing challenges: the elderly, disabled, unemployed and forsaken.

blanch of the Big Four, and after three years was transferred to the office at Tiffin, Ohio, as operator and clerk. A year later his faithfulness and sagacity won him a place in the train dispatcher's office at Springfield, Ohio, and a year later he was placed in the dispatcher's office at Indianapolis, with the same railroad. Four years later he became train dispatcher at Stevens Point, Wis., with the Wisconsin Central Railroad, and it was while in this town that he met his wife, formerly Ollie Beatty, a native of Indiana, and daughter of Oliver H. P. Beatty, who was killed in his hotel in Indianapolis, Ind., but whose murderer never was brought to justice. His wife still survives him, and lives with her daughter, Marie, at South Bend, Ind. Mr. Berlin came to Kankakee the first of July, 1893, and held his position six years as train dispatcher with the I. & I. Railroad, resigning then to fill a similar position with the Chicago & Northwestern Railroad at Oshkosh, Wis. At the solicitation of the superintendent of the I. I. & I. Railroad, he returned to his former post in Kankakee after a year and a half and ever since has maintained his reputation as one of the most efficient servants in the employ of the company. The wife of Mr. Berlin is a member of the Methodist Episcopal church, and is the mother of two children, Marion A. and Franklin G. Mr. Berlin is prominent in fraternal as well as railroading circles, and is a member in high standing of both the Masonic and Royal Arcanum lodges. His position speaks for his trustworthiness and power of concentration, and his social status is indicated by his friendship with many of the most desirable people in Kankakee.

BERTRAND, ARTHUR J.—As a distinct addition to the coming farming contingent of Pilot township, Arthur J. Bertrand has already given indications of a mastery of his chosen occupation, and of special adaptability to its many-sided demands. The son of Henry and Julia (Provost) Bertrand, and grandson of Leon and Aglia (Perrault) Bertrand, he is a native of the vicinity of his present home, and was born February 18, 1877. As a lad he profited by the educational opportunities of the district schools, and as a man he has supplemented this start by continuous research along agricultural and general lines. Under his father he received a thorough farming training, and he was taught the value of industry, economy and perseverance.

Like practically all of the members of his family tree he married early in life, April 19, 1900 taking to wife Lola L. Carrow, who was born in Kankakee county April 24, 1884, a daughter of Joseph J. and Malvina (Perry) Carrow. The Bertrand home has been brightened by a son, Harvey J., born January 13, 1902. Mr. and Mrs. Bertrand are members and constant attendants of the Roman Catholic church. Mr. Bertrand is an energetic and kindly disposed young man, ambitious of achieving the best possible in his line, and having among his neighbors and associates many warm and disinterested friends.

BERTRAND, ALFRED L.—Although young in years, Alfred L. Bertrand is an accomplished farmer, abreast of the times, and seeking always newer, better ways of accomplishing his life work. He was born in Pilot township September 6, 1875, a son of Henry and Julia (Provost) Bertrand, and grandson of Leon and Aglia (Perrault) Bertrand. His father is a native of Pilot township, having been born here October 29, 1852, and his mother was born in Canada, January 20, 1849. The marriage of the parents occurred January 1, 1874, and soon after they settled on section 11, Pilot township, where Henri Bertrand developed a fine farm from the untilled prairie, and nobly fulfilled the obligations of broad and tolerant citizenship. His death occurred March 9, 1894, and his widow subsequently married Louis Joron, mention of whom may be found elsewhere in this work. To the first family were born six children: Alfred L., Arthur J., Homer, Leontinb, deceased; Antoinette, the wife of Peter Knittle, of Pilot township, and Henry G.

Alfred L. Bertrand represents the third generation of his family in Pilot township, and as such was able to profit educationally by the superior advantages at the disposal of the youth of his time. From the public schools he went to that excellent institution, St. Viateur's College, at Bourbonnais, from whose doors have departed so many young men upon worthy missions in the agricultural and business world. Returning home, he worked for his father until his marriage, in the city of Kankakee, January 24, 1900, to Katherine A. Walter, a native of Salina township, this county, and born May 11, 1876. Mrs. Bertrand comes of one of the old families of the county, and is a daughter of George M. and Ursula (Erzinger) Walter, of Bonfield.

Mr. Bertrand established his home on the farm he now lives on in section 11, Pilot township, where he owns one hundred and sixty acres of fine and productive land, and where he is engaged in general farming and stock-raising. He has a pleasant and comfortable home, substantial barns and outbuildings, the whole evidencing thoroughness and business sagacity. He appreciates the many advantages of a country life, and seeks to surround himself with the best that it has to offer. His son, Leroy A., was born June 13, 1901. Mr. and Mrs. Bertrand are communicants of the Roman Catholic church. Mr. Bertrand is a republican in politics, and though never aspiring to office, takes an active interest in the welfare of his party. He is social in his tendencies, and an honored member of the Foresters and Knights of Columbus. Genial in manner, and considerate in his business and general associations, he is recognized as a distinct addition to the promising and substantial men of the community.

BERTRAND, HOMER.—The fine old pioneer family of Bertrand, so numerously scattered over the fertile lands of Pilot township, in no sense loses its usefulness or dignity in the agricultural career of one of its younger representatives, Homer Bertrand. Mr. Bertrand inherits much of the ability and perseverance of his grandfather, Leon, the courage and steadfastness of his father, Henry, and reflects the thorough home training and excellent example of his devoted mother, Julia (Provost) Bertrand, who still lives in Kankakee county.

The family capacity for fitting into waiting farming grooves is one of the strongest possessions of this young and enthusiastic land owner. In his younger years he was a careful and conscientious student in the district schools, and later study has added much to this well-laid basis of information. He has amind tuned to progress, and means to accomplish not only as much but more than have those bearing his name before him. An added incentive is found in a young and ambitious wife, whom he married June 25, 1903, and who formerly was Alixe S. Carrow, barn in Kankakee county January 24, 1886, a daughter of Joseph J. and Melvina (Perry) Carrow, more of whom may be found on another page of this work. Mr. and Mrs. Bertrand have one son, Honore, born April 15, 1904. As are all of the family, Mr. Bertrand is a member of the Catholic church. He is upright and honorable, a genial companion, kind to children and animals, and in favor of all measures for the improvement of the conditions by which he is surrounded.

BERTRAND, LOUIS.—From an humble position in life, without means or special incentive, Louis Bertrand has arisen to an influential place in the agricultural world of Pilot township, becoming one of the best informed and most successful of the many sons of that honored pioneer, Leon Bertrand. Mr. Bertrand was one of the six children who accompanied their parents from Ontario, Canada, where he was born October 4, 1850, being a year old at the time of the removal. His native land, therefore, has no place in his memory, and to Pilot township he owes his education, agricultural training, and subsequent control of his splendidly equipped farm of two hundred and eighty acres on section 14. In addition, he has divided among his children five hundred and twenty acres, ail of it paid for by his untiring industry, and his ability to live always within his income.

January 6, 1873, Mr. Bertrand was united in marriage to Delena Mayette, born in Louisville, Canada, October 26, 1855, a daughter of Charles and Sophia (Forteark) Mayette, natives also of Canada. Mr. Mayette died in Canada May 15, 1863, at the age of thirty-four. and in 1867 his widow removed to Kankakee county, where in August, 1867, she married Henry Fleshaul, who died in August, 1899. Subsequently Mrs. Fleshaul went to live with her daughter, Mrs. Moses Bertrand, of Pilot township, which is still her home. Mr. and Mrs. Louis Bertrand are the parents of twelve children, all of whom have received practical educations, and many have been established in homes of their own through the generosity of their father. In the order of their birth the children are as follows: Henry; Jule; David and Ebro, twins, the latter deceased; Meddy; Lillie, deceased; Harry; Frederick; George; Laura E.; Robbie, deceased; and Louis.

Mr. Bertrand suffers not at all from being the representative of so numerous a family, for his character and attainments give him a distinct individuality and a separate place of his own making. He has been a firm believer in the gospel of work, of self dependence, economy, and plain common sense. While uneventful, his life has its manifold compensations, not the least of which is the esteem of his fellow-men, and the affectionate regard of his large family.

BERTRAND, LOUIS A.—Dealer in wall paper, paints, oils, varnishes, etc., also contractor in paper hanging and picture framing, No. 235 Schuyler avenue, Kankakee, is prominent in business circles in that city. He was born at Cleveland, Oswego county, New York, August 24, 1856, and is the son of Napoleon and Mary (St. John) Bertrand. His father was a carriage and house painter and came to Kankakee county in November, 1856, and located at Bourbonnais. He removed to the city of Kankakee in 1865, where he made his home until called from this earth by death January 25, 1872, when just fifty years old to the day. He painted wagons for Casper Lohrman for a time but finally drifted into house painting. He was a most excellent workman and found plenty of employment. His wife, who is the daughter of John St. John, is still an honored resident of Kankakee, making her home with her son. Both she and her husband were, and she is still, members of the Catholic church. She is a very devout and consistent Christian, and largely interested in church work; is a member of the Sodality and is very active in leading all movements looking to the good of the church. There were ten children in her family: Harriette, who died when but four years of age; Joseph, who died in infancy; Theodosia, deceased at the age of twenty-two years; Louis A., whose memoir follows: John B., a paper hanger and decorator at St. Elizabeth's Hospital, Lafayette, Indiana; Ezilda and Hattie, twins; Ezilda is Mrs. John Prince, of Kankakee; Hattie is the wife of E. Lagerot, also of this city; Frank S., a barber of Kankakee; Josephine, the wife of John Saddler, died in 1893 at the untimely age of twenty-one years, leaving one child, Josephine, who is a member of the household of the subject of these memoirs; and Rose, the wife of Charles Castine, a professor of music and languages at Fowler, Indiana. She died in 1896 when twenty-two years old.

Louis A. Bertrand was educated in the public schools of Kankakee, and later learned the painter's trade with his father, but after the latter's demise, he took up farming. He continued his agricultural pursuits until he was some twenty-three years old, and then returning to Kankakee he embarked in the contracting end of his present business, commencing on a small scale. From this humble" beginning, by industry and close attention to his affairs he has built up a most excellent business. At first he did all his own work, then hired one man, then two, then three, then four. At this stage-he admitted R. B. Chartier to a partnership, continued the business under the firm name of Chartier & Bertrand. This endured for ten years when he bought out his partner's interest. At that time he employed some nine or ten men. In November, 1894, he opened his store, which was then on Schuyler avenue, in the same building in which is now the Legris Brothers' Bank. From there he removed to the Fortin building, and remained in that place some four years. He is now in the Bertrand building. His store room is twenty-five by ninety feet in size, and he carries a three thousand dollar stock of well selected goods. He has the best assortment of material in his line of any store in several counties. He employs from ten to twenty men, as the season warrants, and is fast pushing to that easy fortune so sought by all.

Mr. Bertrand was united in marriage with Miss Ezilda Charron, Christmas day, December 25, 1878. The lady is the daughter of Theophile and Ermine (Chartier) Charron, both of whom were natives of Canada. By this union have been born three children: Napoleon J., head clerk in his father's store, married Miss Leona Loiselle, and has two children—Leo and Arthur. Frank J., foreman in his father's shop, married Miss Blanche Perry, and has one child -Bernedette; and Daisy, a graduate of St. Joseph's Seminary in 1903, married Albert Vernette of Chicago. The family of Mr. Bertrand have been painters for generations. The first to come from sunny France to Canada was Seraphin, who more than a century ago learned his trade before he crossed the seas.

Mr. Bertrand is the Chief Ranger of Canadian Court. No. 56, of the Catholic Order of Foresters, now in his sixth term, having been a member of the same and filled all the offices. He is a member of St. Joseph's Society and of the Maccabees, in both of which he is a trustee. He is chairman of the Board of Directors of the Citizens Alliance. holds membership in the Retail Merchants' Association, as well as of the Associated Charities of Kankakee. He and his family are in full communion with the Catholic church.

BERTRAND, MOSES.-It is doubtful if any of the earlier families of Kankakee county are more prolifically represented within its borders at the present time than that established here in 1851, by Leon Bertrand. This sturdy pioneer, a representative of that French-Canadian element which still predominates in this locality, and which lent color and vigor to the life of the wilderness during the last years of Pottawatomie occupation, brought hither a large family of children, and with means far below his necessities, reared a structure of success which should be an inspiration to the more fortunate country dwellers of today. Of the many children who bear his name, and maintain his broadening influence now that he is no more, mention is due Moses Bertrand, owner of two hundred and eighty acres of land in section 14, Pilot township, and a native son of the township, in which he was born November 15, 1858.

Leon Bertrand was born in Ontario, Canada, August 18, 1824, and was reared on a farm among humble surroundings. While still young, and far from successful from a money standpoint, he married Aglia Perrault, who was born in Ontario July 11, 1824, the ceremony taking place July 24, 1844. Seven years later, he invested practically his all in tickets of transportation for himself, wife and six children to Illinois, and in the undeveloped country try endured the hardships and deprivations incident to pioneer life, turning his face always towards the brighter days of the future. Energy and insistence caused his dreams to come true, and at the time of his death, August 15, 1894, he was the possessor of rich lands and sufficient money to have lived in comfort for many more years. His first wife dying June 25, 1877, in February, 1883, he was united in marriage to Celena Shepeau, who still survives him, making her home with Louis Bertrand, in Pilot township. Mr. Bertrand was the parent of seventeen children, born as follows: Asiline, April 17, 1845; Simeon, March 17, 1846; Joseph, March 23, 1847; Aglia, August 23, 1848; Eaziron, November 1, 1849; Louis, October 26, 1850; Donald, October 6, 1851; Henry, October 29, 1852; Napoleon, August 1, 1854; Lizzie, December 26, 1855; Philebare, June 3, 1857; Moses, November 15, 1858; Domitil, April 1, 1860; Julia, May 3, 1861; Eva, February 15, 1862; Adolean, May 15, 1863; Orenia, August 1, 1866. During all of his responsible, life Mr. Bertrand was a devout Catholic, and he reared his children to the same comforting faith. His personality was a pleasing and confidence-inspiring one, and it is no exaggeration to say that of all the people he met during his peaceful and busy life, none attributed to him aught but the most honorable and reasonable motives. His name is enshrined among those pioneers who really accomplished things, and who left that richest of all heritages, a name above reproach.

As a native son, Moses Bertrand has spent his whole life in Pilot township, and always has been interested in agriculture. His youth was uneventfully passed on the home farm, and during the winter season he attended school sufficient to acquire a good education. January 1, 1878, he married Cordelia Mayette, born in Louisville, Canada, January 1, 1857, a daughter of Charles and Sophia (Forteark) Mayette. Soon after he settled on a farm on section 12, Pilot township, and a year later moved to his present farm on section 14 where he owns two hundred and eighty acres. His knowledge of agriculture is broad and up-to-date and his disposal of country commodities shows keen business and general intuition. Not only is he successful as a farmer and stock-raiser, but he is respected as a devout member of the Catholic church, and a supporter of all measures for the advancement of the community in which he lives. Mr. and Mrs. Bertrand are the parents of ten children, born as follows: Willie, January 20, 1880; Alexander, October 10, 1882, died when in his third year; George, October 15, 1884, died in infancy; Lillie, January 7, 1885, died at the age of a year; Edward, October 5, 1886; Victor, August 15, 1888; Sophia, January 19, 1890, died in infancy; Aldemore, October 10, 1892; August, January 5, 1894; and Mary L., January 13, 1897. An adopted daughter, Delia, was born June 1, 1891.

BEVAN, JAMES A., D. D. S., of Kankakee, is a native of Kankakee county, born December 29, 1875, and is the son of Frederick William and Eliza (Hiney) Bevan. They were natives of Connecticut and Ireland, respectively. His father came to Illinois before the war and settled near Joliet in Will county. During the dark days, from 1861 to 1865, he served his country as a member of the pioneer corps of the One Hundredth Illinois Infantry. He was present in many battles and skirmishes, but fortunately escaped serious wound or being taken prisoner. He participated in battles of Lookout Mountain, Murphysborough and others. He returned to his home, when mustered out and later moved to Kankakee county, and was assessor for thirteen years in Limestone township. Being a farmer he entered upon agricultural pursuits on coming west and continued in that line until his death, which took place June 28, 1897, when he had attained his sixty-first year. The mother still survives, making her residence in Kankakee. She was one of five children born to her parents: Mary, Edwin, Patrick, of Pennsylvania; Hiney, John, of Joliet; and Michel of Ireland. She came west when a young girl. She was the mother of seven children, as follows: William F., D.D. S., of Joliet; Fred A., a farmer at Bonfield, Illinois; Minnie, Mrs. Joseph Shea; Don J., also a farmer of this county; Bertha, Mrs. Frank Clark, of Bloomington, Illinois; Mamie, Mrs., E. R. Kent, of Chicago; and James A.

The gentleman whose name appears at the head of this brief biographical mention was reared and educated here, attending the district school and assisting in farm work. Later he studied dentistry, attending the dental department of Northwestern University. He was graduated with honors from that noble institution in 1901, and in the fall of that same year opened an office in Kankakee. He has been quite successful and has a large patronage, and is one of the rising young men of the city. He is a member of the Illinois State Dental Society. Upright, straightforward, a thorough student and a practical workman' he attracts the respect and encouragement of all, and bids fair to attain high eminence in the profession he has chosen.

Doctor Bevan is a member of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows, and has held several offices in the local lodge.

In addition to the above he is a member also of the local lodge of Rebekahs, Tribe Of Ben Hur and Woodmen of the World.

BIRD, WORTH W.—The life record of such a man as the subject of this sketch should serve as a source of inspiration and encouragement to his fellow-men, because it proves that success may be won through earnest and persistent effort and without the aid of wealthy and influential friends at the outset of one's career. Such a record is that of Worth W. Bird, a prominent and influential citizen of Kankakee, one of the pioneers of the county and formerly a farmer and business man. Although he has given up much of the toil and care of active life he still has many interests to look after and is now enjoying the fruits of his industry and thrift.

Mr. Bird was born at Round Prairie, Calhoun county, Michigan, August 12, 1849, and is the son of Friend C. and Lucy (Smith) Bird. His father was a native of Connecticut and of English descent. The latter was brought to Michigan by his parents while he was yet but a boy. The family settled in Calhoun county, where he was reared, educated, attained manhood and was married. He was a farmer by occupation. In March, 1851, he moved to what is now Kankakee county and settled near where the county seat now stands. At that time this was practically a wilderness, houses few and far between and there were but two log houses on the present site of Kankakee. He bought a farm on which he made his home until called away by death at the age of forty-five years. His wife was a

HISTORY OF SIXTY-FOURTH INFANTRY

The "First Battalion of Yates' Sharp Shooters" was organized at Camp Butler, Illinois, in the month of December, 1861, by Lieutenant Colonel D. E. Williams. It consisted of four Companies,—the last of which was mustered into the United States' service December 16, 1861. Two additional Companies were mustered into service December 31, with Fred W. Matteson as Major. January 10, 1862, the Battalion was ordered to Quincy, and went into barracks. Here it was armed. Moved to Cairo February 16, and March 4 moved, via Bird's Point, Charleston, Bertrand and Sykeston, to New Madrid, and was assigned to Morgan's Brigade, Payne's Division. Pope's command. On the evening of the 12th of March, Companies A, D, E and F made a night attack on the enemy's right, driving his pickets, and skirmishing heavily till midnight, drawing the attention of the enemy from the tenth and Sixteenth Illinois, who were planting siege guns on the enemy's left. Was present at the bombardment of New Madrid the next day, and afterward as support to Williams' siege guns, four miles below, where Pope effected his crossing.

Under command of Major Matteson, moved with Pope's expedition against Fort Pillow, and returning, moved up Tennessee River. disembarking at Hamburg Landing April 22. Was engaged in the siege of Corinth from that time till its evacuation, (May 30.) being continually on skirmish and picket line. May 3 the Battalion was heavily engaged at Chambers' Creek, but repulsed the enemy, the loss being four killed and five wounded. May 7, in General Paine's reconnaissance. lost two men killed and three wounded. May 30 the Battalion entered Corinth in time to see the enemy's rear guard leaving it. In the afternoon took the advance in pursuit of the enemy, and came upon their rear at Tuscumbia Creek about dark, when a brisk skirmish ensued, continuing during the night and the next day. The pursuit was continued to Boonville, when the Battalion returned. The Battalion camped at Big Springs, six miles from Corinth.

General Rosecrans taking command of the Army of the Mississippi, the Sixty-fourth was detailed as headquarter guard, on which duty it remained until November following.

Lieutenant Colonel Williams left the Battalion, on sick leave, May 17, and never returned. being discharged September 11.

Major Matteson commanded the Battalion until August 8, when he died in hospital. He was a gallant and much loved officer. Captain John Morrill, of Company A, took command. and was afterward promoted to Lieutenant Colonel.

August 20. moved to Iuka, Mississippi. In September returned to Clear Creek, and again moved on Iuka. via Jacinto. Was present at the battle of Iuka, but not engaged. September 20, was in pursuit of the enemy. Returned to Corinth. The evening of October 3, went into position, and was sent forward as skirmishers. On the morning of the 4th the Battalion met the first advance of the enemy, and was heavily engaged during the day, doing efficient and distinguished service. The Sixty fourth lost, this day, seventy men, killed, wounded and missing, including Captain David G. Grover, killed.

On November 27, ordered on out-post duty at Glendale, Mississippi. where the Battalion erected fortifications and mounted two pieces artillery. While here, Captain James C. Cameron, Company A, raised the Second Alabama Cavalry, was commissioned- Colonel, and was afterwards killed while gallantly leading the Regiment in a charge, at Barton's Station, April 17, 1863.

November 4. 1863. the Sixty-fourth moved to Luke, and thence to Pulaski, Tennessee, arriving November 11.

On the 15th of January, 1864, over three-fourths of the Battalion having re-enlisted. it moved north, for veteran furlough, arriving at Chicago on the 22d. Was furloughed for twenty days, and re-assembled at Ottawa February 14. Four new Companies (G, H, I and K), having been recruited by Captain Manning. were added to the Battalion, making a full regiment. Lieutenant Colonel Morrill was made Colonel, Captain M. W. Manning, Lieutenant Colonel, and Captain Thompson, Major.

March 11, 1864, the Regiment left Ottawa, and on the 2:3d arrived at Decatur, Alabama, and was assigned to the First Brigade, Fourth Division, Sixteenth Army Corps. On May 4, moved to Chattanooga, and joined General Sherman's Army. Arrived before Resaca May 9, and Companies F and A deployed, driving the enemy into their works. In the night, marched to Snake Creek Gap. On the 13th advanced to Resaca, and was engaged till 16th, when the enemy retired. Arrived at Kingston May 20, at Van Wert on 25th, and at Dallas on 27th. On this day Companies A and F, on skirmish line, lost fourteen men killed and wounded. Until the 31st the Regiment was each day engaged at Dallas. June 1 to 4, moved to the left. On the 5th. skirmished with the enemy near New Hope Church. On 6th, moved to Ackworth: 10th, to Big Shanty: 11th, advanced to foot of Kenesaw Mountain. Until 26th, was engaged at Kenesaw. On the 27th of June the Sixty-fourth was in the advance line of the assaulting forces, and was heavily engaged, losing, in killed and wounded, fifty-seven men, among whom was Adjutant W. H. Hinckley, killed. July 3. when the enemy fell back, the flag of the Sixty-fourth was the first on Kenesaw. July 4, the entire Regiment was on the skirmish line, and drove the enemy two miles, losing twenty-five killed and wounded. On 7th. had a skirmish on the Chattahoochie. On the 10th, crossed the river, and fortified. On the 17th, advanced to Nance's Creek. The Regiment being deployed, drove the enemy a mile and a half. On 18th, marched toward Decatur, and on the 19th engaged the enemy, losing five men, Surgeon J. T. Stewart being wounded. On the 22d, marched to the support of the Seventeenth Corps, and was heavily engaged, charging the enemy three times, and capturing forty prisoners and one battle flag, and re-captured the field glass and papers of Major General McPherson, who had been killed and robbed by the enemy. The loss of the Regiment in this action was fifteen killed, sixty-seven wounded, and seven missing. On 28th, the Regiment was hotly engaged, and repulsed several charges of the enemy. From this time until August 26, was engaged in the siege of Atlanta. On 26th, moved out of the works, down the Sandtown road, and marched all night, and 27th and 28th struck the Montgomery railroad, and 29th was engaged tearing up the track. On 30th marched to Macon railroad. On September 2d passed through Jonesboro and Lovejoy. On 8th, went into camp at East Point.

On September 23d the Division was transferred to Seventeenth Corps. The Regiment was now in First Brigade, First Division, Seventeenth Corps,-Brigadier General J. W. Fuller commanding Brigade, Major General J. A. Mower commanding Division, and Major General F. P. Blair commanding Corps.

October 1st, marched to Fairburn, on a reconnoissance. On 3d, returned. On 4th, commenced march after Hood; moving via, Atlanta, crossed Chattahoochie at midnight, and marched all night in the rain, and camped in works in Marietta. Thence, moved northward, passing through Kingston, near Rome, to Adairsville. and arrived at Resaca on 15th. In the night Captain Conger and Company A. moved, in advance of a reconnoissance party, to Snake Creek Gap. Captain Conger was mortally wounded, and two men severely wounded. October 16th, the whole Regiment, on skirmish line, advanced on the Gap, driving the enemy in confusion. Marching via Lafayette and Summerville, arrived at Gaylersville, Alabama, October 21.

On 29th, marched, via Cave Springs, to Cedartown. Had a skirmish with the enemy's cavalry. Moved to Smyrna Camp Ground on 5th November. On 13th moved to Atlanta, and on 15th started on the "march to the sea." On December 9th, skirmished with the enemy at Poole's Station. On 10th, invested the city of Savannah. On 11th December, skirmished with the enemy all day. On the 16th marched to King's Bridge, on the Ogeechee. On 17th moved south, and on 19th reached Doctortown, on Gulf railroad and Altamaha River. After destroying railroad, returned to Savannah December 23.

January 3, 1865, embarked at Thunderbolt, for Beaufort, South Carolina. On 13th left Beaufort, and, 15th, arrived at Pocatigo. On January 20 and 25 the Sixty-fourth was engaged in demonstrations against Salkahatchie and Cambahee Ferry. January 31, moved from Pocatigo. On February 3 crossed the Salkahatchie, in face of the enemy, fighting in cold water three and four feet deep, and gained a footing on the opposite side, when the enemy fled. The command then marched, via Midway and Orangeburg, to Columbia. Thence, via Winnsboro, Cheraw, Laurel Hill, to Fayetteville, North Carolina. Arrived at Bentonville, 20th March, and the entire Regiment was on the skirmish line, 21st, capturing-twelve prisoners, thirty-five horses, and one caisson, and General Johnson's headquarters, losing thirteen men killed and wounded. On 24th March camped at Goldsboro.

Marched April 10, arriving at Raleigh 13th. On 26th, moved to Jones' Cross Roads. On 27th returned to Raleigh, and on 30th marched for Washington, arriving May 19. Was in the grand review, May 24. June 6, moved for Louisville, Kentucky. On July 11 was mustered out of service by Lieutenant Robert M. Woods, A. C. M. On 14th arrived at Chicago, Illinois, where the Regiment received final payment and discharge, July 18, 1865.

Colonel John Morrill, afterwards breveted Brigadier General, commanded the Regiment until July 22, 1864, when he was severely wounded. Lieutenant Colonel M. W. Manning until November 12, 1864, and Captain J. S. Reynolds (afterwards Lieutenant Colonel and Brevet Brigadier General) from November 12 until its muster out.

INTERESTING FACTS

Amazingly, the brain in the average person can store more than 1-quadrillion pieces of information!

In the song "Yankee Doodle", why does it say "he put a feather in his cap and called it macaroni"? In those days, one meaning of the word macaroni had nothing to do with food. It meant "well dressed".

What word has 15 of the 26 letters of the alphabet - yet no letter is used more than once? That word is "uncopyrightable".

American explorers Lewis and Clark and their crew were the first to celebrate the 4th of July west of the Mississippi. In 1804, they celebrated the day by firing their keelboat's cannon in the morning and again at night. This celebration was held at Independent Creek which is located in what is now the Atchison, Kansas, area.

The Battle of Bunker Hill was not actually fought on Bunker Hill! No one is sure why, but the battle actually took place about 2,000 feet away on Breed's Hill. Breed's Hill was later renamed Bunker Hill so that tourists would not be confused!

Can you guess who made the most appearances on the cover of Time Magazine? Richard Nixon was featured on the cover of Time a record 55 times!

The sun is more than 100 times bigger than the earth. Which are the three largest oceans in the world, in order? They are the Pacific, Atlantic and Indian.

Six U.S. Presidents had the first name of James - Carter, Garfield, Buchanan, Polk, Monroe and Madison.

Oddly enough, New York's famous Coney Island - despite its name - is not an island.
