

DEATH TAKES WM. CORRECT, CABERY MAN, ON MONDAY

William Correct passed away at his home early Monday morning after a lingering illness covering a period of many months. Funeral services were held at St. Joseph's Catholic Church in Cabery this morning. Obituary to follow next week.

FRANK STUART

With the passing of summer when all the world is awed with evidence of death at every turn came another passing of a beloved old settler, Frank Stuart, who had lived well in to the autumn of the average life. This fine old gentleman had been ailing for the past year, suffering three strokes of paralysis in that time, the last causing his death at nine o'clock Saturday morning, Nov. 7th.

Frank Stuart, eldest son of Andrew and Myra Stuart, was born in Livingston county, near Cornell on December 31, 1856. While still quite young he came with his parents to live on a farm near Kempton. When grown to manhood he was united in marriage with Miss Alice Clayton, also of Kempton. To this happy union two children were born, Della May and Leonard Garfield.

After their marriage the couple made their home on a farm about six miles southeast of Cabery. Nearly all of their wedded life was spent in the vicinity of Cabery, Kempton, Kankakee and Mazon. Just a few years previous to his death they moved back to the old farm home. The Grim Reaper claimed him on November 7th when he had passed the mature age of 75 years. His body was removed to the home of his son, Gar, where funeral services were held on Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

The two children mentioned above, the devoted wife, two brothers, Dan, of Logansport, and James, of Champaign, and a sister, Margaret Stuart, of Kempton, are left to mourn the passing of a loved one. To these the entire community extends their sincere sympathy.

Rev. Crane, of Buckingham, had charge of the funeral services. Mrs. Peter Duckworth and Mrs. Thomas Steen accompanied at the organ by Miss Lulu Hipkey, of Herscher, sang Mr. Stuart's favorite hymn, "Oleole," also "Ther Sometime We'll Understand," and "The Old Rugged Cross."

He was tenderly laid to rest in the Clayton's cemetery by six friends: William Jensen, Harold Ewing, Percy Hughes, Donald Benson, Otis Hall and Henry Sadler.

The relatives and friends from a distance who attended the funeral were: Mrs. Della Gilborne and daughter, Loretta, Mrs. and Mrs. Francis Madison, Mrs. Mae Walker, Ross Bell and daughter and her husband, all of Chicago, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Stuart, of Logansport, Indiana; Mr. and Mrs. James Stuart, of Champaign; Mrs. Sarah Clayton, Mrs. Elizabeth McLaughlin and Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. Knute Madison, all of Kankakee, several cousins from Cornell; Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Anderson, of Coal City, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Watts, of Paxton, also many relatives from Cabery and Kempton.

CARD OF THANKS

We sincerely appreciate the kindness of our neighbors and friends who offered assistance and sympathy in our hour of sorrow.—Mrs. Alice Stuart and Son, L. G. Stuart, and Family.—(advx)

BIRTHDAY SURPRISE PARTY

Speaking of delightful surprises, Mrs. G. B. Aldrich received one Saturday evening that she declares was not only pleasant but stunning for she was decidedly stunned upon reaching her home Saturday evening to find it converted into a scene of festivity. When the first excitement wore off she inquired the "whys" and "wherefors" and soon learned that the merriment was in honor of her birthday, planned by her daughter, Mrs. D. W. Clayton. "500" proved pleasant diversion through the evening after which a splendid luncheon was served, featured by two lovely birthday cakes prepared by two sisters-in-law, Mrs. Frank Hiddleston and Mrs. Percy Reed.

The guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Reed and Neil J. Peterson, of Redfield, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Wilson, of Piper City, Mr. and Mrs. Percy Reed and daughter, of Buckingham, Mrs. Margaret Lee and son, Buddy, and William Savoie, of Kankakee; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hiddleston and sons, William and Clifford, and Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Colthurst, of Kankakee.

BIRTHDAY DINNER PARTY

A large number of relatives and friends gathered at the pretty country home of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Call of near Piper City Sunday to celebrate several of the family's birth anniversaries which occurred during the month of November. Those honored were Mrs. F. M. Clodi, Sr., Frank Clodi, Jr., William and Lawrence Clodi and Jerald and Loretta O'Brien. Loretta's birthday was being celebrated that very day. A sumptuous three-course chicken dinner was served at noon, at which the guests of honor enjoyed the privilege of cutting the angel food birthday cake.

After dinner the grown-ups played "500," while the kiddies enjoyed baseball.

A light luncheon was served at four o'clock after which the company separated, going to their respective homes after extending sincere birthday greetings to the honored guests.

GIVE RULES AND REGULATIONS

In order to avoid misunderstandings, the Kempton Fire Department is publishing in this issue of this paper a copy of its rules and regulations. It would be a good plan for everyone interested to familiarize himself with these rules at once.

CABERY HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

Friday, the 13th, isn't always "lucky!"

The Cabery Hi basketball girls initiated their new suits by winning the first game of the season from Melvin, 21-9, last Friday night. The squad members looked peppy as they filed onto the floor in their colorful black and gold suits. It was a rough-and-tumble game, with Cabery coming out with a lead of a single basket. Dolores Sadler proved to be the star basket shooter, scoring 9 points. Mary Gorman made the other 2 points. Quite a number of interested fans followed the team to Melvin.

Although this season's schedule isn't complete, several games have been arranged. Among them are St. Paul, Kankakee; Ashkum, Holy Trinity, Bloomington.

A New Flag Pole

An attractive feature has been added to our school grounds. On the front lawn stands a tall, stately flag pole. Approximately twenty-five feet high, it adds a dignity to its surroundings that nothing else could give. Armistice Day was the first occasion it had to hold Old Glory.

The Ca Hi reporter wants to call people's attention to it as most schools, large or small, have a flag pole of their own. Cabery is glad to know that her school now possesses one also.

A Few News Items

Last Thursday the Latin II class began singing Latin songs. It afforded great amusement, especially for the upper classes. We hope to astound General Assembly with our ability some morning soon.

The 31 class picture was put up last week. It seems nice to have Alice and the boys with us again.

Leo Paradies is still absent from school. Leo ought to be quite a corn hatcher by now.

General Science has been made more interesting by the arrival of our new notebooks. Experiments are now in full swing.

On Monday morning the grade and high school learned of the death of Mr. William Correct, the father of two of our pupils, Iva and Julia. Voluntary contributions made up a sum with which we purchased a fitting floral tribute. The school extends its sympathy to the Correct family.

SUMMER LINGERS

The Kankakee Republican-News published a number of fall freak incidents a few weeks back. Wonder if they can beat this: Mrs. Carrie Lovell reports two fine ripe strawberries gathered from her patch the past week.

Two weeks ago Mrs. Charles Gesse clipped two lovely sprays of roses from a rambling which has never bloomed later than early September. The same week Mr. Randall Peterson displayed some plump peaches which had just ripened on a tree in his yard.

Judging from the number of fine white cobwebs floating about the air so evident against the beautiful blue sky last week, Indian summer had come for several days.

Skies changed on Monday and Tuesday of this week to a dismal gray and lightning and thunder on Monday evening were followed by rain throughout the entire day following.

SAUNEMIN TAKES ARMISTICE GAME FROM CULLOM

Coach Krughoff's Saunemin high school warriors evened up their Armistice Day series with Coach Roll's Cullom high school team, when they ran up two touchdowns and 12 points, while holding Cullom scoreless. The game was played on the Saunemin high school field, half of it in a drenching rain, and the score was the same as last year's game at Cullom, with the exception that Cullom won the 1930 classic.

Wiseman, Locke Score
Pre-game rains had made the field somewhat slippery as the teams lined up for the tilt. Saunemin kicked off, McDermott taking the ball for a short punt. Cullom made a first down on line plays, but soon lost the ball. Locke, Saunemin half back and captain, who made things plenty tough for Cullom all afternoon, started the fireworks with a 40-yard run and almost a touchdown. Wiseman carried the ball over before the game was well under way. A plunge for extra point was smeared. Score, 6-0.

Saunemin kicked off and recovered their own field. Cullom held like Gibraltar, however, and Farber took the Saunemin punt on Cullom's 17 yard line. Wise and McDermott made a first down for Cullom. Saunemin got their defense to eliciting, however, and Locke intercepted a Cullom forward pass, racing 30 yards for a touchdown. An attempted place kick hit the cross-bar and bounded back into the field. Score, 12 to 0.

Cullom Holds On One-Foot Line

This ended the scoring for the day, although both teams made at least one scoring threat after this. Deany started off the second quarter with a 10-yard run for first down, and the spirits of the Cullom supporters were still further rejuvenated when Wise broke loose for another first down. A fine pass from Deany to Robinson carried the ball on Saunemin's 27 yard line, but two 15 yard penalties neutralized all the gain Cullom had made and they were soon fighting a defensive battle on their own goal line. Locke took the ball to Cullom's 20 yard line. Lannon, Saunemin end, snaggged a pass to put the ball on Cullom's 8-yard line. Wiseman plunged to the one-yard line. Here Cullom made as fine a goal line stand as we have ever seen, holding Saunemin for three plays and taking the ball less than six inches from their goal line. Farber kicked from far back of his goal line, getting away a good punt at a critical time. Saunemin had the ball on Cullom's 20-yard line as the half ended.

And Then the Deluge

The rainstorm, which had been threatening all day, broke with a vengeance as the second half opened, and the third and fourth quarters were devoted largely to line plunges and kicking. Neither team could make a scoring threat under the miserable weather conditions, the play see-sawing back and forth between the 30-yard lines.

Made Day National

Persistent Woman Editor United the Nation in Giving Thanks.

The impression seems to prevail in some quarters that the women of the United States never accomplished anything worth while before they were given the right to vote. Talk of that character is a million miles from the truth. The women of America have always been doing fine, big, worthwhile things. H. O. Bishop writes in the National Republic.

At this particular season of the year it is appropriate to tell about the woman who, after twenty years of patient effort, secured celebration in this country observed on the same day by all of the people.

The name of this woman was Mrs. Sarah Josepha Hale. Few women, either before or since, have accomplished more big things for the betterment of men and women. Probably few persons of the present generation have ever heard of this gifted woman. She was born at Newport, N. H., October 24, 1788, and died in Philadelphia, April 30, 1879. She was not a college woman, but was taught by her mother. In 1813, at the age of twenty-five, she married a lawyer, David Hale, a brother of Salma Hale, historian and at one time a member of congress from New Hampshire. Nine years later she was left a widow with five children. She was a genuine, old-fashioned American woman, and did not clamor for governmental or individual aid. She was quite content to go to work. In 1828 she became editor of the Ladies' Magazine, which had recently been started in Boston. She successfully edited this publication until 1837, when it was merged with Goddard's Ladies' Book. She continued with the latter publication until 1877.

Much Work Well Done.

Editing a magazine is usually considered a pretty big job in itself. Mrs. Hale, however, seemed to find time for many other things. She organized the Seaman's Aid society in Boston, which is the parent of similar organizations now existing in most ports. The completion of the Bunker Hill monument was also partly due to the efforts of this little woman. She persuaded the women of New England to raise $50,000 for that purpose.

The plan of educating women for medical and missionary service in foreign lands was inaugurated by Mrs. Hale. She devoted a number of years to this effort, finally succeeding through the organization of the Ladies' Medical Missionary society of Philadelphia, and the Woman's Union Missionary Society for Heathen Lands, in New York.

Throughout her editorial work Mrs. Hale urged the practical advancement of women, advocating their employment as teachers and the establishment of seminaries for their higher education.

Thanksgiving in 1777.

It was in the early forties that Mrs. Hale began her campaign for making Thanksgiving a national holiday and its celebration on the same day all over the country. It was then the custom for different localities to observe the occasion on whatever day happened to strike their fancy.

Following the surrender of Burgoyne at Saratoga in 1777, the Continental congress had appointed a committee to recommend joint thanksgiving for "the signal success lately obtained over the enemies of the United States."

In 1778 Thanksgiving was set for December 30, most of the states concurring in a uniform date, but there were other Thanksgiving days in May, June and December as the various states saw fit to order them.

It was not until January, 1790, that Washington was authorized by congress to proclaim a national Thanksgiving, which he did for February 19.

For twenty years Mrs. Hale wrote editorials in her magazine, and personal letters to governors and congressmen, in behalf of a national day of giving thanks. In 1863, when Abraham Lincoln saw the wisdom of her suggestions and decided to adopt the plan. From that day to this Thanksgiving has been celebrated by the entire nation the last Thursday of November.

After the 1795 day of Thanksgiving in February, the festival was skipped for twenty years. In 1815, when peace with Great Britain followed the War of 1812, congress resolved that "a joint committee of both houses wait upon the President of the United States and request that he recommend a day of Thanksgiving to be observed by the people of the United States with religious solemnity and the offering of devout acknowledgments to God for his mercies and in prayer to him for the continuance of his blessings."

Long Lapse After 1815.

The day fixed for observance was April 13, 1815, but thereafter Thanksgiving as a national celebration fell by the wayside, not to be revived until Mrs. Hale's campaign moved President Lincoln to act in 1863.

Mrs. Hale's persistent efforts had won favor for the idea in most states by the time the Civil war had arrived. Some states already had begun the

GIVE THANKS FOR "GOODLY TURKEY"

HOW well I remember that old Thanksgiving dinner! Father at one end and mother at the other end, the children between and wondering if father ever will get done carving the turkey.

The day before at school, we had learned that Greece was south of Turkey, but on the table we found that Turkey was bounded by grease. The brown surface waited for the fork to plunge astride the breastbone, and with knife sharpened on the jambs of the fireplace, lay bare the folds of white meat.

Give to the disposed to be sentimental, the heart. Give to the one disposed to music the drumstick. Give to the one disposed to theological discussion the "parson's nose."

Then the pie! For the most part a lost art. What mince pies in which you had all confidence, fashioned from all rich ingredients, instead of miscellaneous leavings which are only short of glorified hash! Not mince pies with profound mysteries of origin! But mother made them, and laid the lower crust and the upper crust, with here and there a puncture by the fork to let you look through the light and flaky surface into the substance beneath.

Mrs. Sarah Josepha Hale.

Father." Mrs. Hale wrote to ministers all over the country, urging them to help.

The First Congregational church of Washington responded to Mrs. Hale's plea, and sent a delegation to President Andrew Johnson requesting him to issue a Thanksgiving proclamation. He accepted and the Presidents since have followed his example without being petitioned, the states issuing separate proclamations in keeping with the national edict.

Mrs. Hale wrote many books and poems. The most famous of her poems were "Mary's Lamb," "The Light of Home" and "It Snows." Perhaps the best known of her works is "Woman's Record," or "Sketches of All Distinguished Women From the Creation to the Present Day," first published in 1853, and enlarged in 1860. She went on writing verses and lyrics for children, articles and novels for grown persons and editing her magazine until shortly before her death in 1879, at which time she was ninety-one years old.

THANKS is one of the things we forget. We take our blessings as a matter of course. We seldom say a word about them—although we lack like stars when things don't go right. So let's stop complaining long enough to say "Thank You."—Grit.

Let us pause a moment in our daily deliberations and give thanks for the many blessings we have received. Thankful for our health, our good friends, the rewards for honest toil, and the community and nation whose prosperity is our ever-present concern. Let us be thankful of the right to be alive, no matter how hard the road of life may be; and it will help us to know that the sunshine always comes after the storm and the rainbow of prosperity is just ahead.—Emy Smith.

Japan Still Defies League of Nations and China Threatens —Groener Asks Fair Play for Germany in Armaments.

By EDWARD W. PICKARD

THERE is no war in Manchuria because, as the League of Nations and other authorities agree, there cannot be a war until a competent government has declared war. But there have been bloody battles up there almost every day, and the situation during the week was getting worse. The league council was to meet again on November 10, and it was confronted with the fact that Japan had not heeded its order to withdraw her troops by that date, with the added aggravation that Tokyo had reiterated the statement that it would not obey the order and would make no concessions to the league.

Then, China came to bat with a statement by its representative at Geneva, Dr. Alfred Soe. In a note expressing his government's conditional acceptance of the one-year arms holiday Doctor Soe told the league secretariat flatly that if the league covenant and the Kellogg pact should fail in the Manchuria crisis, China would build up her fighting forces to protect herself against Japan. Before that he had asked the league to send an international force to police the Manchurian railway zone.

Gen. Ma Chin-shan, commanding the Chinese troops in southern Manchuria, was said to have attacked the Japanese at the Nouri river bridge which the latter were repairing, and after a sanguinary conflict the Chinese were driven off. But they did not go far and at last reports were gathering for another attack, and more Japanese soldiers were on their way hurriedly to the scene. There were other battles, but this was the biggest.

What was more alarming to foreign nations was the spread of the fighting to the big city of Tientsin. This began with outbreaks of Chinese mobs that attacked the Japanese concession. The Japanese officials said the disorders were due to the fighting of Chinese mobs and that the real motive of these mobs was to occupy the foreign concessions in the city.

The Japanese forces went into action "for protection" and shelled the Chinese. American, French and other troops were held ready to act, but at this writing had not been called on to do anything.

In the background of all the trouble is Henry Pu Yi, who as Hsuan Tung was the last Manchu emperor of China. The young man is a quiet renting householder in the Japanese concession in Tientsin, but loyal monarchists have always been about him and now it is asserted that there is a plot to separate Manchuria from China and put Henry on the throne. With this in view, it is said, many thousands of troops have been gathered together by Gen. Liang in China, former ally of the Manchu dynasty and for years the enemy of the Chang family now headed by Marshal Chang Hsueh-liang. It is true most of these reports come from Japanese sources, but they have the ring of truth.

WHAT Germany can and will do and what she asks the other powers to do for her continue of absorbing interest to the world. The arms ban was set forth by Gen. Wilhelm Groener, the brilliant soldier, who is now minister of war and minister of the interior and who may succeed Von Hindenburg as president.

"Germany has the right to the same treatment as all other nations," General Groener said. "She is entitled to the same security and to the same methods of disarmament as other nations. It was expressly guaranteed in 1919 that the other powers would follow the path Germany took when she was disarmed."

"When we disarmed we were forbidden to possess heavy artillery, tanks, war planes, submarines, and warships over 10,000 tons. Even anti-aircraft artillery was prohibited. Military conscription was forbidden, and Germany was instructed, even to the slightest detail, on how to organize her army."

"The result is that Germany is utterly disarmed. Measures have been taken to guarantee an effective disarmament. Would it not be flying in the face of all logic and would it not be a violation of the solemn obligation to disarm entered into by all other nations, if the forthcoming disarmament conference would now seek to apply other methods than those tried out on Germany?"

"Therefore we object to the drafts of the disarmament agreement as worked out by the preparatory disarmament commission at Geneva. It is a violation of the principle of the equality of nations if it tries to make eternal the difference between the victors and the vanquished by freeing the victors of their obligations to disarm and making the vanquished bear the full brunt of the disarmament clauses in the Versailles treaty."

CONFERENCES and conversations in Paris and Berlin concerning reparations and war debts were held behind closed doors, but it was reliably reported that the French government sent word to Berlin that whatever concessions are made to meet the German situation must be only temporary and within the framework of the Young plan; that France will not agree that Germany's private debts shall be given precedence over reparations payments; and that if there is any permanent reduction in the conditional part of the Young plan annuities, it must be accompanied by a corresponding reduction in the war debts owing to the United States.

Germany, on the other hand, is evidently seeking to take advantage of her present economic distress to obtain a great permanent reduction of reparations, or even their complete obliteration. The French nationalists are determined that Premier Laval shall not abandon the principle of reparations, no matter what pressure Germany brings to bear.

OUR political pot is already seething and bubbling and there is a lot of talk, loose and otherwise about next year's campaign. Senator George W. Norris of Nebraska gave voice in Washington to a few characteristic opinions. The insurgent Republican made a strong attack on the policies of Mr. Hoover, and seemed to the correspondents about ready to participate in a bolt of radicals from the G. O. P.

Senator Norris likes that presidential election which he will be up next summer. Here are a few of the things the Nebraska said:

"If we are to keep men employed, why discharge them? It may be necessary in some instances for private industry to reduce its employment, but there is no justification for the government discharging workers."

"If we expect industry to keep men at work the government ought to set an example because the government is the largest employer in the nation. I favor a bond issue to cover the emergency and provide work for the unemployed. I do not favor bond issues in peace times, but this is an emergency tantamount to war conditions. I mean a bond issue, not to provide charity, but to provide jobs by road building and other federal construction. Instead of fighting over the debt the government ought to provide work for its jobless citizens."

Concerning the world court Senator Norris said: "I shall favor American adherence only if a reservation is adopted requiring the senate's approval before any controversial issue, involving the United States, may be submitted to the court for decision."

COMING back to the supposed opposition in the Republican ranks to the renomination of President Hoover, which if it exists will probably be futile, it is interesting to note that Senator Hiram W. Johnson of California is going to visit Chicago for the purpose of finding out what support he would receive in Illinois if he became a candidate.

Some of the Republican leaders of the city and state said they would give the matter serious thought, and they were rather of the opinion that Johnson might be approved by all or part of the Illinois delegation in the convention. They cited the fact that the Californian has opposed all of the Hoover policies that proved most unpopular in this part of the country, and also they thought his coming into Illinois as a presidential entrant in the April primaries might help their state ticket.

Those of them who oppose Mr. Hoover, had heretofore had no one to suggest except Frank O. Lowden.

WHEN Harry Moore was elected governor of New Jersey the other day, it was immediately suggested that he might be a good man for the Democratic Presidential nomination, and Senator Lewis of Illinois agrees that Moore stand at the top of the list of dark horses. Lewis also told the reporters there was an "undercover movement" in the Republican party to repudiate President Hoover.

DEATH has removed from the senate the forcible and picturesque Thaddeus H. Caraway of Arkansas, the Democrats of that state are considering the choice of his successor. The suggestion has been made, and well received, that the senator's widow, Mrs. Hattie Caraway, be nominated to fill out the unexpired term. This would be tantamount to her election. Mrs. Caraway is said to be willing to accept the office. She is a close student of public affairs and has been a charming and popular hostess in the Lord Baltimore mansion, a colonial home just over the Maryland line near Washington.

RUMANIA'S royal family has supplanted the world with another romance. This time it is Prince Nicholas, brother of King Carol and Princess Ileana, who is the central figure. Nicholas met accidentally and fell in love with Mme. Delet, divorced daughter-in-law of a former cabinet minister. He asked Carol for permission to marry her and the king refused, whereupon Nicholas climbed into his automobile.

Prince Nicholas picked up the lady and drove at top speed 125 miles to the village of Tohan. There he compelled the mayor to perform the marriage ceremony, and the happy couple rushed away, while the terrified mayor telephoned the news to Bucharest.

So far as is known, the king has not relented enough to recognize the marriage as even a morganatic union. But he probably will not take severe measures, for he is fond of his brother and gives him much credit for his own success in gaining the throne of Rumania. Then, of course, Carol cannot fail to remember his own affairs in the past. Prince Nicholas, who is twenty-eight years old, accompanied his mother, Queen Marie, and the Princess Ileana on their tour of America in 1926.

SMALL-minded people reveled in the news that C. Van Ness Leavitt, a brother-in-law of President Hoover, was arrested in Santa Monica, Calif., on charges of violating the state prohibition law. A police officer and two dry agents who were raiding speakeasies there found Leavitt in an alley holding a sack containing nineteen pints of liquor, and he was released on bail after pleading not guilty. Leavitt said some one handed him the sack while he was visiting in a store and asked him to take it out the back door and get rid of it, and that he acquiesced as a friendly service not knowing the sack contained liquor. The owner of the store, also arrested, said he believed the sack was brought in by a bootlegger, seeing from the police. Altogether a trivial affair, made news only by Leavitt's relationship to the President.

WILLIAM L. Edison, second son of the late Thomas A. Edison, who intends to contest the great inventor's will, issued a statement at Wilmington, Del., in which he said he believed interests opposed to him are trying to establish the impression that he was not always on friendly terms with his father. As proof that this is untrue he pointed out that when both had perfected like radio equipment (William) did not market his set in opposition to his father's even though it was patented.

"I have had the highest regard for every member of my father's family," he said, "and never since his second marriage has there been a single instance of unpleasantness either with my stepmother or any of my full or half sisters and brothers."

"Until the conditions of my father's will and codicil were revealed no disagreement of importance ever had come between us. Even now I do not intend to allow the case to degenerate into attacks on personalities."

Edison's will left the bulk of the estate to Charles and Theodore Edison, the two youngest sons. Thomas, the eldest son, has said he would not join William in contesting the will.

OBSERVANCE of Armistice day was the occasion of innumerable ceremonies and addresses in all parts of the country, and in the lands of the allied nations as well. President Hoover, of course, led our nation in observing the day. In the morning, accompanied by General Pershing, Secretary of War Hurley and Secretary of the Navy Adams, he went to Arlington cemetery and laid a wreath on the tomb of the Unknown Soldier. At eleven o'clock, the hour symbolic of the ending of the war, the President was in West Potomac park, where he dedicated the beautiful marble temple which the people of Washington have built as a memorial to the soldiers who went from the District of Columbia. In the afternoon Mr. Hoover paid a visit to the old frigate Constitution at the Washington Navy yard.

General Pershing and American Legion officials participated in a commemorative program in the evening, and the Carnegie endowment for international peace held a mass meeting which was addressed by Houston Thompson and Frederic B. Coudert. (© 1931, Western Newspaper Union.)

in Your bowels!

Poisons absorbed into the system from souring waste in the bowels, cause that dull, headachy, sluggish, bilious condition; coat the tongue; foul the breath; sap energy, strength and nerve-force. A little of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin will clear up trouble like that, gently, harmlessly, in a hurry. The difference it will make in your feelings over night will prove its merit to you.

Dr. Caldwell studied constipation for over forty-seven years. This long experience enabled him to make his prescription just what men, women, old people and children need to make their bowels help themselves. Its natural, mild, thorough action and its pleasant taste commend it to everyone. That's why "Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin" as it is called, is the most popular laxative drugstore sell.

Modern Girl Has Small Knowledge of Thimbles

Charley Chaplin, the world's funniest film star, is not credited with many amusing stories. His forte is pantomime. It is related, however, that he recently addressed a girls' industrial school on the fringe of the London slums and regaled them with bits of Hollywood life.

But Charley laid stress on the domestic ignorance of the average modern American girl, exclaiming: "Why, most of them don't know one end of a needle from another."

"I know a charming young lady who, on graduating from a celebrated 'finishing school' speedily got engaged and as the wedding-day approached, was showered with gifts. Among them was a nest of gold thimbles. When she looked at the glistening things, she said, 'Why, these things are real!' and she exclaimed in dismay: 'For goodness sake, what do you serve in them?'"—Los Angeles Times.

Too Many

"Mother, when the depression is over may I have a pony?"

"Well, see, Bobby, what did daddy say?"

"He said I could have a dozen ponies, but I wouldn't know which one to ride if I had that many."

Noiseless

"Isn't your new overcoat rather loud?"

"Not when I put my muffler on."

GET THREE EGGS INSTEAD OF ONE

The Oklahoma Experiment Station in a six-month experiment ending last April showed that 100 hens fed a balanced ration of grain and mash laid three times as many eggs as 100 hens fed on grain alone, and the eggs were more than an ounce a dozen heavier. Furthermore, these records were made during the fall and winter when eggs are the highest. The Missouri State Poultry Experiment Station also proved the same thing.

PURINA LAY CHOW is made to balance the grain you feed. One hundred hens should be fed 10 to 12 pounds of grain per day, and they should eat the same amount of Lay Chow. Hens fed like that and given plenty of water to drink will produce eggs at a cost of less than 10c per dozen. Of course you must first get rid of the loafers and it would be well to give each hen a worm capsule. If you need help to cull your hens we are ready and willing.

We suggest that you buy your Lay Chow now while the prices are still low. We will have a car of Checkerboard feeds on track some time this week and you can save money by buying off the car.

This Company was organized by farmers for farmers and is being operated for your best interests every day. Give us a chance to be of service to you. We always aim to pay the highest prices for grain that the market and good business will allow and we carry for your convenience a good stock of Feeds, Coal, Steel Posts and Wire Fencing.

Rain gave the corn husking a black eye last week so it hangs over into this week at least. There is quite a lot of plowing to be done and weather is very mild for this time of the year.

Hunters have been working this territory pretty hard the past week and if their marksmanship is as perfect as it is noisy there won't be a bird or a bunny in these parts for several years to come. One "haoun dawg" has just about ruined his vocal organs.

Ed. Dean, who for several years has worked in Chicago, has been out home for some time and says that work is pretty slack in Chicago. This doesn't quite jibe with the scribbles of the scribe who contributed the article to Melvin Motor about "prosperity being just around the corner." (?) Perhaps he meant the other corner beyond the slaunchways corner from us with the other road blocked and the detour sign out—or something?

Part of the Olsen half mile road recently graveled is pretty badly torn up and needs immediate attention if it is to be of any benefit to the town. We understand that there is another mile of new gravel in pretty bad shape. It seems a pity after having gone to the expense of fixing up the roads only to have them shot all to pieces before they have seen a month of service. The Schoolmann mile is in pretty fair shape as it received better "packing" down and was perhaps graveled on a better settled job of grading.

Write FOR COMPLETE INFORMATION ON "ELECTRIC HOTBEDS"

Last spring and summer, truck farmers and greenhouse men in northern Illinois began to use electric heat in their hotbeds and greenhouse benches. Special "electric hotbed" cable was laid a few inches under the soil and because the ground temperatures could be controlled easily, the results were unusually satisfactory.

The Public Service Company is now working with farmers in adapting electric heat to their particular hotbed problems. The advantages of such a system are many. Tomatoes, peppers, cabbages and other plants (as well as flowers) can be started before the regular season. Their growth is quick and uniform—making the products ready for earlier marketing. Plants on an early market bring more money.

There are also savings in time and labor. Once the electric heating cable is laid, it is a simple matter to get the hotbed ready for each season's crop. No manure mixture is required as a source of heat.

Your present hotbeds can be easily converted into electric hotbeds. The cost of the electric current to operate them is small. A special rural representative of the Public Service Company, experienced in this work, will be glad to give you complete information. Just fill out the coupon below. You will not be obligating yourself in any way.

U. S. MISSIONARY IS CAPTIVE OF CHINESE

Last Reported to Be "Teacher" of Red Army.

Peiping, China.—Dert Nelson, American missionary whose home is Minneapolis, has finished a year in the hands of Communist bandits in Honan province.

Nelson, a worker for the Lutheran United mission, was captured at Hwangshan, Honan, on October 5, 1930, by members the "first red army" of Honan, and has been held captive ever since.

For several weeks nothing has been heard from Nelson, who wrote the last letter received by his family in July, reporting he was not badly treated, and that the Communists had appointed him as their "English teacher."

At that time, Nelson was held in the Communist camp within two days' journey from Hankow, and within 40 miles of a large camp of government troops. The latter have never made any serious attempt to obtain his release.

Nelson's family has waited in anxiety for the last year in Hankow, hoping daily that he might escape or be released. The mission at which he is a member has made determined efforts to release him, and paid a ransom of more than $10,000 to the Communists, who had promised to let the missionary loose when this sum was delivered.

But after getting the money, they changed their minds, and said they would keep him until they had also received tennis balls and rackets, volley balls, a radio set, English books, a supply of gasoline and arms and ammunition.

The mission sent most of the articles demanded, but said they could not supply arms and ammunition, because it was contrary to mission principles. Even after receiving the articles they asked, the Communists decided to keep Nelson a captive. They sent back word that they needed an English teacher, and no one else was available.

A Norwegian missionary worker, Rev. A. Tredt, was captured with Nelson, but the Communists let him go after the mission paid $10,000 for his release.

The American legation in Peiping and the consul general in Hankow have written dozens of notes to the Chinese government asking that troops be sent to rescue Nelson, but nothing has been done. The Chinese government agreed on several occasions to send a relief expedition, but nothing came of these promises.

It is believed that the length of Nelson's period of capture constitutes a record in China. At the time he was captured, more than forty missionaries of different nationalities were held captive in different parts of China, but all of these have since died, been killed or released.

A quarter of a million highway traffic signs have been erected by D. C. More than half are caution signs, including warnings of hospital zones, railroad crossings, fire stations, city limits, slow bridges, winding roads, slippery surface roads, pedestrian crossings, one way street flashers, etc.

MAKING APOLOGIES

By THOMAS ARKLE CLARK
Former Dean of Men,

I suppose at one time or another in his life each one of us innocently or accidentally or under the stress of emotion does something rude or annoying or painful to his friends. I've kicked me on my corn as we were starting to church last Sunday, but, of course, that was an accident for which he begged my pardon at once. Mrs. Core's statements irritated me beyond control a few months ago, and I blurted out just what I thought. It was the truth which I uttered, but rather rude, cruel

POTPOURRI

Guides the Shark

The pilot fish is so called because of its habit of accompanying ships and sharks. It swims closely in front of the shark and some believe it guides the shark to its food. A more plausible explanation is that inasmuch as the shark does not bother this type of fish, the pilot stays close to the shark to secure protection from its enemies.

TO LIFT RESORT'S WATER 3,000 FEET

Engineering Task Will Require Gigantic Pumps

Flagstaff, Ariz.—The gigantic engineering task of bringing water from springs near the bottom of the Grand canyon to supply the tourist resort on the south rim will be started soon.

Water will be pumped from Garden creek, 3,075 feet under the canyon rim, to the park headquarters and tourist hotel, M. R. Tilton, superintendent of the Grand Canyon National park, has announced. The project will be completed in four months.

Contracts were awarded to a Los Angeles firm recently to lay almost two miles of 5-inch steel pipe from the springs to the top of the canyon walls. The project will be one of the most unique attempted in Arizona, because of the dangerous route laid out for the pipe line and the great pressure necessary to force the water more than a half-mile almost straight upward.

Since the establishment of the resort on the rim of the Grand canyon many years ago, water has been shipped by railroad tank cars for 100 miles. Flagstaff and Del Rio, Ariz., have been the sources.

Erection of an 8,000-foot transportation cable, extending from a point near the springs to the village on the canyon brink, will begin operations. The cableway is to be in four sections,

Father Sage Says:

There is one good thing about the man with trouble on his mind. He never breaks into your office humming selections from a jazz opera.

with transfer facilities at each station for safety purposes.

The giant 17 stage pumps forcing the water from the springs will be electrically driven. Three separate conduits for transmitting the electrical power will follow the routing of the pipe line.

This is the second huge water project undertaken at the Grand canyon. A similar system was installed by a railroad company on the north rim several years ago.

"Thriller" of Long Ago

Outdone by Invention

"Way back in their boyhood reading, illicit reading, with the yellow-back in the big geography, and the teacher not too vigilant, some men who are gray-haired now can recall a Bessie thriller with the title 'Red Star, the Spirit of the Lake.'"

A white pioneer has had all his family murdered by the Indians. He escapes to an island and finds a cave. In that cave there is a stone tomahawk with the striking edge so carved as to form a star, and leave that mark on the victim.

Also there are two very light and narrow cedar canoes, with straps for the feet. The pioneer finds that in these he can walk the water of the lake. Every night he goes out. Every morning some redskin is found dead in the forest with the star mark. Hence "Red Star, the Spirit of the Lake."

Red Star walked on quiet water. But now the news tells us that Karl Nannestad, of Styria, has outdone the "Bessie hero." Facing rather heavy seas, he has actually walked the water from Cape Gris Nez to Dover on "water skis." The distance is about twenty miles. The water skis of 1931 are clearly superior to the strapped-on cedar canoes of fancy, three-quarters of a century ago. And once more it has been proved that truth is stranger than fiction.—Brooklyn Eagle.

Russian Leaders Never

Confident of Success

"What makes you think that the Bolsheviks will be unable to retain their power longer than six months?" I asked Lenin as I sat in his office one day during the Brest-Litovsk negotiations of 1917.

Just six weeks after the Bolshevik revolution he had delivered a speech in which he said: "Six months from now, when we all shall be hanged . . . and to this I had taken exception."

As an eyewitness of the birth of the present regime in Russia, it has been clear to me from this and other incidents that its leaders came into power by accident and are still controlling the fate of 150,000,000 people by sheer lack of opposition.

During my interviews with Lenin in my capacity of American newspaper man, I observed that he could not see a single reason why the world should not adopt the gospel of revolution. He was a dreamer who built himself a world of his own.

Stalin also, was uncertain of himself at that time. For hours I heard him discuss means of providing newspapers in the early days of the cause. The idea of confiscating the established press never entered his mind then, though only a month later the bourgeois press was forced to discontinue publication and its plants were socialized.

The man who now devises five-year plans, who knows exactly where the world will be in the next few years, and who envisions the complete success of his experiments, could not see a month ahead in the early days of his power.—K. J. Ledec in Current History.

Game Subjects of Movies

Moving picture films of game subjects are being distributed by the Pennsylvania game commission to theaters within the state. One of earliest releases presented phases of ringneck pheasant propagation and hunting. Views were presented of bird dogs pointing the birds, the approach of the hunter, the flush, the kill and the retrieve, and other pictures of breeding the dogs on the state farms were included.

Many Fish Eggs

In order to ascertain definitely the number of fish eggs to be expected from a given number of fish held for propagation, the Montana state fish and game department experts made an actual count, finding 934,112 eggs in 539 female native cut-throat trout, or an average of 1,830 eggs per trout. The famed Montana grayling yielded an average of 12,633 eggs.

If you've ever taken Bayer Aspirin for a headache, you know how soon the pain subsides. It is just as effective in the relief of those pains peculiar to women!

Don't dedicate certain days of every month to suffering. It's old-fashioned. It's unnecessary. Aspirin will always enable you to carry on in comfort. Take enough to assure your complete comfort. If it is genuine aspirin it cannot possibly hurt you. Bayer Aspirin does not depress the heart. It does not upset the stomach. It does nothing but stop the pain.

Headaches come at inconvenient times. So do colds. But a little Bayer Aspirin will always save the day. A throat so sore you can hardly swallow is made comfortable with one good gargle made from these tablets. Neuralgia. Neuritis. Rheumatism. Pains that once kept people home are forgotten half an hour after taking a few of these remarkable tablets. So are the little nagging aches that bring fatigue and "nerves" by day, or a sleepless night.

Genuine Bayer Aspirin tablets cost so very little after all, that it doesn't pay to experiment with imitations!
