New Cars

The North-Western Electric Railway has placed an order for two new electric cars, which are to be delivered at this point within the next month. The cars are to be of the latest design and will be operated exclusively on the North-Western Electric Railway. They will be capable of carrying 50 passengers and are equipped with all the latest safety features. The cars are expected to provide a more comfortable ride for passengers and will undoubtedly improve the overall service provided by the railway.

ACCIDENTAL SHOOTING

WILLIAM T. GORDON ACCI-DENTALLY SHOOTS SELF

One of the most tragic events that has occurred here in some time was the accidental death of William T. Gordon, a prominent citizen and member of the local community. The incident took place when he was handling a gun and had intended to fire it at a target when it accidentally discharged, killing him instantly. His death has left the community in deep sorrow and has caused widespread outrage.

Do You Know That

Universal public health service is the duty of the State. Much valuable medical food is prepared in the manufacture of certain foods. The only good is in the death of the enemy.

Good health is the foundation of civilization and the health of the people is in their own hands. It is the responsibility of each individual to take care of their own health.

VACATION Time

In the early summer, and now the small boy begins to plan his vacation for the coming months. This is a time when they can escape from the routine of daily life and enjoy relaxing or playing outdoors.

The summer vacation should also provide a chance for the children to learn about the world around them. They should be encouraged to explore nature, visit museums, and participate in cultural events.

We are in the midst of this beautiful season, and this is the perfect time to unwind and recharge. The weather is perfect for outdoor activities, and there are many opportunities to enjoy the beauty of nature.

A Tour Around the World

The "Tour Around the World," organized by the Rotary Club, is an event that has been eagerly anticipated by the community. The tour is a unique opportunity for people to experience different cultures and traditions from around the world.

The tour will visit various countries, each representing a different continent, and will provide a comprehensive overview of the world's diverse cultures.

RESOLUTION OF RESPECT

In Memory of Beatrix Hilton

Who Died June 12th, 1907

Whereas it has been made known that the body of our Beloved Brother W. G. Hilton, and William, the sons of the deceased, have been seen fit to call her to her Heavenly Home. This fact, and the fact that her name is in the family, we feel that they have less cause to be mourned, therefore, Be IT RESOLVED, that the members of the family, and all others who have been related to her, do take notice of this event, as a great sorrow will have occurred, and we extend our deepest sympathy to them.

The program consisted of songs, each representing a different country, and a service was held at each stop. The songs were beautifully sung, and the service was attended by all those who were present. The variety of the countries represented added to the enjoyment of the service.

Fine Program Rendered To Large Audience.

The U. B. Church opened its doors for the first time in Oakville, Illinois, and the service was well attended. The program opened with a performance by the local school children, followed by a reading from the Bible and a prayer by the minister. The service concluded with a benediction by the church members.

CHURCH REDEDICATED

U. B. CHURCH RE-OPENED

The U. B. Church was re-opened and dedicated last Sunday and and one of the finest programs ever witnessed here was attended by a large audience. The program opened with a performance by the local school children, followed by a reading from the Bible and a prayer by the minister. The service concluded with a benediction by the church members.

Card of Thanks

We wish to thank all the kind friends and neighbors, who assisted us in any way during our bereavement, for their sympathy and also for the many beautiful flowers sent to the family.

ALONG GORDON AND FAMILY

Party

Miss Elmera Wilcox entertained all the family and friends, who gathered at her home for a birthday party in honor of Miss Gordon. The party was a great success, and everyone enjoyed themselves.

Are They

Who are they? The "They" that we are told

"Are saying this and that?"

"We have heard reports of their movements, but can't tell where they are. We've been hearing from them constantly, a couple of days a week.

For "They" say this and "They" say that, but who knows who are "They"?

"They say that Gordon was in Chicago last week on business, An ladusk a worldful; "They" say his wife will leave soon, and be tired of the situation.

"They say that Smith who owns a car, is out of town. "They" say this and "They" say that, but who as yet has found "They?"

"They" say not a word of being ill in city or town; "They" are immune from punishment.

"They" can't be located.

UNCLE SAM SETS PRINTING RECORD

Gompers’s Big Establishment Taps Out Vast Amount of Work

“HOW OLD ARE YOU?”

Question of Vital Interest in This Country Now.

Uncle Sam’s Current Experts Point Out That Age Limitations Are in Effect Since Registration.

THE BRADLEY ADVOCATE-Bradley Illinois

Of all the news that I have read this week, the most interesting to me was the one about the German government announcing that it would be setting up a new printing press. This is something that I have been thinking about for a long time, and I am glad to see that it is finally happening. It is definitely a step in the right direction, and I hope that it will help to ensure the continued success of our efforts to fight against German aggression.

However, I must admit that I am concerned about the impact that this new printing press will have on our economy. I am aware that the German government is already producing a large amount of propaganda, and I fear that this new press will only increase this output.

This is why I believe that we need to be careful in our approach. We must ensure that the new printing press is used in a way that is consistent with our goals, and that it is not used to spread propaganda or to manipulate public opinion.

In conclusion, I am excited to see the German government setting up a new printing press, but I hope that it will be used in a way that is consistent with our goals and that it will not be used to spread propaganda.

Best regards,

EXPERT RELATES OLD ANIMAL LIFE

TELLS OF MANY CREATURES IN PREHISTORIC DAYS

Amerindia Pressed Men Lived in West When "Thick-headed" Winged Tail Ate Air

Altho' the wild life of North America is as abundant now as it was of the other continents, the historian's knowledge of the flora and fauna in this respect is necessarily poor, for the专家学者 and a majority of mankind, that preved the World War, the advent of the white man, while the vast number of scarecrows and savages that lived before the Indians came to inhabit the land, were not studied or classified.

In a communication to the Geological Society of America, J. W. N. Dues, Chief of the United States Biological Survey, gives an account of a North American wild life in prehistoric times.

"A porcine animal has been discovered that lived in the Tertiary period, according to some authorities, or at least 100,000,000 years ago, and that was far more ancient than the total number of objects in the universe," he said.

"The specimen was found by a prospector named George C. Smith, of Portland, Me.

"He says that it was a porcine animal that lived in the Tertiary period of the world, and that it was far more ancient than the total number of objects in the universe."
The Girl Who Had No God

By Mary Roberts Rinehart

SUNDAY, THE RISQUÉ, HAS AN INCORPORATING INTERVIEW WITH THE POLICE CHIEF.

SYRACUSE-For two years old Miss A. H. Bausch, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Bausch, has been known as the girl without a God. This is due to the fact that the Bausch family is of Jewish faith, and the girl herself was brought up in the Jewish faith until she was ten years old.

Miss Bausch is now ten years old, and she has been attending school in Syracuse for the past two years. She is a bright and attractive girl, and is well liked by her classmates.

The interview with the police chief was conducted in the chief's office, where he showed considerable interest in the case.

"I've had quite a few cases of this sort," said the chief. "People bring their children to me and want me to do something about it. But I can't do anything. The children are legally Jewish, and I can't take them away from their parents."

"I understand," said the chief. "But it's a serious problem. People are concerned about their children's future."

The chief went on to say that he had spoken to the parents of the girl, and they were not interested in changing the child's religion. They said they were content with the child's current education and wanted her to continue in the Jewish faith.

"I see," said the chief. "But it's a tough situation. I can't do anything about it."

The chief then turned to the girl and asked if she was happy with her current situation.

"I'm happy," said the girl. "I like my school and my friends."

The chief then adjourned the interview, stating that he would continue to monitor the situation and do what he could to help.

The interview was conducted in a professional and respectful manner, and the chief was shown to be a dedicated and compassionate officer.

The case of the girl without a God is an example of the challenges faced by law enforcement officers in today's society. It is a reminder of the importance of understanding and respecting cultural and religious differences.

The Department of Justice and the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission have issued guidelines to help law enforcement officers handle cases involving religious and cultural differences. These guidelines encourage officers to approach such cases with sensitivity and respect, and to work with community leaders to find solutions that meet the needs of all parties involved.

The case of the girl without a God is a reminder of the importance of these guidelines and the need for continued education and training on cultural and religious diversity. It is a call to action for all of us to work together to ensure that everyone's rights are respected and that all voices are heard.

KAZAN

The Story of a Dog That Turned Wild

Kazan, a noble Alaskan malamute, was left by his master to fend for himself. He roamed the frozen wilderness, enduring the harsh winter, and his eyes turned a glint of malice.

Chapter VI

Kazan

On the edge of the river, a young man named Alvin saw Kazan. He was staring into a river, and Kazan stared into him. Suddenly, Kazan leaped into the water, and seized Alvin with his powerful jaws. Alvin struggled, but Kazan held him fast, and the young man sank into the icy water. Kazan let him go, and Alvin swam to the shore. Kazan watched him, his eyes glowing with a cold, unforgiving light.

Chapter VII

Kazan Returns

Kazan returned to the river, where he had left Alvin. He saw the young man struggling on the shore, and he leaped into the water again. Kazan plunged beneath the surface, and emerged with Alvin clinging to his back. Kazan carried him to the shore, and dropped him gently onto the ground. Kazan watched him, his eyes never leaving the young man's face.

A few minutes later, Kazan turned and walked away. He was never seen again, and the river was never crossed by a human being. Kazan had returned to the wilderness, and the river was once more a frozen, empty expanse of ice and snow.

KAZAN ONCE AGAIN COMES UNDERSHOT AND PERFORMS GREAT GOOD DEEDS.

The story of Kazan, the noble Alaskan malamute, who was left to fend for himself in the frozen wilderness, and whose eyes turned a glint of malice, is one of great good deeds. Kazan, having once again come undershot, performed a great service to mankind. He was a loyal companion to his master, and his loyalty was never questioned. Kazan, the noble Alaskan malamute, will long be remembered as a hero of the frozen wilderness.

The War Comes Now

The war has come now, and Kazan is needed more than ever. He is a powerful companion, and his loyalty is unshakable. Kazan, the noble Alaskan malamute, will continue to perform great good deeds, for as long as the war lasts.

AVERT EROSION OF AGRICULTURAL LAND

Refused to Sign Declaration of Independence

FARMS THE SOURCE OF WEALTH

Declaring the rights of mankind to the common beneficence of nature, this country is blessed with a fertile soil and a bountiful climate. The abundant harvests that are produced in its fields are the result of the labor of the farmers who tend them with care and skill. The prosperity of the nation depends upon the welfare of the agricultural community. Therefore, it becomes the duty of all citizens to support the farmers in their work, to encourage the growth of agriculture, and to protect the interests of those who are engaged in this noble calling.

Cardinal Tigeau, Good Management and a Beneficiary Still.

During the years of the war, the government placed a heavy emphasis on the need to conserve farm land. This was done in order to ensure that there would be enough food to feed the soldiers and the people who were working in the factories and on the farms. The government also encouraged farmers to practice good management in order to increase the yield of their crops. This was done by providing advice on how to plant and care for the crops, and by providing access to credit to help farmers buy the seeds and fertilizers they needed.

BRUSH DAMS BUILT FOR CHECKING EROSION

Proposed by the United States Department of Agriculture

Food supplies throughout the country were greatly improved by the use of brush dams. These structures were designed to check the erosion of soil by wind and water, and to improve the quality of the land. The dams were built by the farmers themselves, using brush and other materials that were available on their farms. The dams were effective in controlling erosion, and they helped to improve the productivity of the land.

Children Cry for Their Mothers

In a time of war, it is natural for children to be anxious and worried about their parents. They may feel a sense of loss and confusion, and they may be afraid of what might happen to them or to their families. It is important for parents to be patient and understanding with their children, and to reassure them that they will be safe and secure.

TYPHOID

KILL ALL FLIES!

The idea is to get rid of all flies, not just the one that is carrying the disease. This is because flies can carry many different diseases, and they can spread these diseases to people and animals. The best way to get rid of all flies is to use a chemical insecticide, such as DDT.

Many Women in this Condition Require Healthful by Lydia E. Pickham's Vegetable Compound.

Don't Waste—Don't Hoard

The man or woman who wastes contributes to national uncertainties, multiplies by his bit of the problem facing the nation's head. The man or woman who hoards helps create those "psychological depressions" which so often precede national disturbances.
