ALSACE-LORRAINE TO FRANCE

LUXEMBOURG WILL BE COMPLETELY SEVERED FROM GERMANY

OBJECTION TO DECISIONS, COUNCIL OF THREE

Italy, China and Belgium All Apparently Dissatisfied With Recent Rulings.

BULLETIN.
(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS)

Washington, D. C., May 3.—Senator Johnson of California, republican, today charged that President Wilson had reversed his stand upon secret treaties in the Fiume dispute and had surrendered without "The semblance of a contest" to Japan in the controversy over the disposition of Shantung by which he said 40,000,000 of Chinese were delivered into bondage. "This," he added, "is simply concrete illustration of the League of Nations."

Paris, May 2.—In declaring its disappointment with the decision of the Council of Three regarding Kiao-Chau, the Chinese peace delegates in their statement today, said the decision was giving Japan practical control of northern China.

Paris, May 3.—(Havas.)—The presentation of the peace terms to the Germans will not take place before Wednesday, May 7, according to this morning's newspapers. The Echo d'Paris says that the Council of Three yesterday adopted the section of the treaty dealing with Alsace and Lorraine, which are given to France, the ownership of the railways included.

The Council also fixed the status of Luxembourg, this newspaper adds, completely severing the Grand Duchy from Germany.

International Situation.

With the work of signing the peace treaty seemingly almost completed the Allied and German delegations at Paris are waiting for the formal presentation of the document next week. Final decisions on several problems were reached by the Council of Three yesterday.

Germany must give up her cable systems. The cables will remain in the hands of the five great powers until an agreement is reached as to how it will be done with them. This is virtually the same plan, said to have been adopted in dealing with warships which Germany has surrendered.

Objection over some decisions of the Council of Three are heard at once, the Chinese delegation issuing a statement to the effect that the decision of the Council merely "submitted Japan for Germany in Shantung and gave Japan additional control in southern Manchuria." Belgium too, is disposed to object to the conclusions of the Council, it being asserted that the Belgians will not obtain rights they demanded over the control of the Scheldt river or territorial concessions in the Dutch province of Limburg.

Italian Situation.

The Italian situation is still unsettled but efforts are being made by the American and French Ambassadors at Rome to reach an understanding with Premier Orlando. Measures have been taken to prevent further attacks on President Wilson by the Italian press and persons engaged in demonstrations.

Petrograd, the former Russian capital, which has been in the hands of the Bolsheviks since the Red revolution in November, 1917, is believed to have been captured by the Finnish army, which has been advancing from the frontier. The Bolsheviks were recently reported evacuating the city. This pronounced defense for the Bolshevik arms is the most notable development reported from the anti-Bolshevik fighting fronts.

A rather indefinite report from London states that a Russian-Bolshevik army "is marching on Hungary," following the arrangement of a convention with Ukranians. Whether this means that the Ukranians are permitting the Bolsheviki to join the Hungarian Reds against the Roumanians was not developed.

With meetings with the German peace delegation already under way at Versailles, the question of steps in regard to making peace with Austria has been taken up. One detail made known is that the Austrian peace delegation, upon its arrival, will be housed at St. Germain, a suburb of Paris.

COMPANY L IS ON WAY HOME

PRESS DISPATCHES SHOW THAT THE 33RD DIVISION HAS STARTED

LEAVE LUXEMBOURG

Now On Trains En Route To Brest, the Port of Embarkation In France

Company "L" the only military unit to leave Kankakee in uniform and as a fighting unit is on its way home.

Press dispatches show that the boys left Luxembourg today for Brest where they will embark for the United States. The last train of the famous 33rd Division of Illinois pulled out of Luxemburg today amid the plaudits of the citizens of that place who have come to like the doughboys from Illinois.

During their stay in Luxembourg, the members of Company L, now in the 129th Infantry, have been allowed to fraternize with the inhabitants of the city and a warm friendship is said to have grown up between them. The boys are greeted at the trains by large crowds of people who go there to see them depart and bid them good bye in much the same manner that Kankakee people turned out to see them two years ago when they left here, some of them never to return.

To Get Reception.

Chicago is plannnig a reception for the members of the 33rd, which the country will not soon forget. It is the plan of the hundreds of committees that are working on the reception to make it bigger than the one tendered the soldiers who landed at New York.

Kankakee people are beginning to reflect over the problem of a fitting reception for the members of old Company L who are left and who return with the organization. The day that Company L left Kankakee will never be forgotten by those who were here at that time, and their return should be even more auspicious.

DARING FEAT IN PARACHUTE LEAP

FRENCH AVIATOR JUMPS FROM MACHINE AT DIZZY HEIGHT AT CHELSEA FIELD

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS)

Atlantic City, N. J., May 3.—Speeding a mile a minute over the flying field at Chelsea today, at a height of 1,000 feet, Jean Ors, a French airman, successfully leaped from the machine in a silk parachute not much larger than the seat of a beach lounging chair.

It was a great event of the morning at the Pan-American aeronautical congress and was witnessed by all the delegates to the convention. The smallness of the parachute aroused as much interest as the plunge itself. The jump was made in competition for a $500 prize and the judges gave Ors a perfect mark. Others may later contest for the trophy.

JAIL BIRDS AWAIT PROBE

THIRTEEN PRISONERS IN COUNTY BASTILE WILL HAVE CASES INVESTIGATED

MAY TRANSFER 2 MEN

Ross and Wood May Be Turned Over to Iroquois Officers—Two Out On Bond

Thirteen prisoners are now in the county jail awaiting nervously the outcome of the investigations which will be started before the May term of the Kankakee county grand jury Monday morning when that body is to be sworn into service.

Out of the 13 prisoners, two are likely to be turned over to the Iroquois county officials at any time. They are C. W. Ross and Joseph Wood, who were arrested on a charge of stealing from an Illinois Central box car.

Both men were apprehended in the south part of Kankakee, where they were peddling and disposing at "give-away" prices of large numbers of shirts, boots and other wearing apparel. It developed, however, that the goods were stolen at Gilman, in Iroquois, and for this reason it is very likely that the men will be sent to Watseka for prosecution.

In Federal Court.

Three of the prisoners have been sent to the Federal court at Danville, but their alleged crimes will be investigated here also. They are Owen Cox, Arnold Trombley and Vern Donahue, who are charged with burglarizing box cars on the New York Central railroad.

William and Frank Teter, two colored men, are out on bond, charged with stealing wood from another farmer in Pembroke township. Their cases will also be investigated by the grand jury.

Other prisoners, whose cases will be investigated, are as follows:

Walter Lewis, charged with forgery.

Henry Chandler, Stephen Hawn and Henry Williams, charged with robbing cars on the C. I. and S. railway.

John Mustine, charged with robbing telephone men of watches and money.

William Shubert, charged with bigamy.

Lewis Craig, charged with forgery.

Other cases will be investigated, but the defendants are out on bond, or there has been no arrest.

CLAIMS FIRE WAS ACCIDENT

CLEWS ARE CLEARED UP

Officer Explains Presence of the Kerosene Can and "Mysterious Man and Woman."

That the fire which destroyed from $6,000 to $7,000 worth of property on the Pallissard farm near Bourbonnais last Saturday night was accidental, is the belief of State Fire Marshal John G. Gamber, as expressed in a letter received by Sheriff William J. Riley this morning.

The state fire marshal's office sent a deputy here last Monday to make an investigation. The deputy was on the scene for two days making a close investigation of the blaze and its probable cause.

After thanking Sheriff Riley and his force for the assistance given Deputy Burke, State Fire Marshal Gamber says:

"After a thorough investigation was made and a complete report placed before me, I am of the opinion that this fire was accidental. It has turned out that the kerosene can was seen in the field several days before the fire by Joe Benoit. It was also developed that the man and woman, occupants of the automobile that drove away after awakening Grandpre were Norris Curl and his mother of Manteno."

The investigation therefore clears up the two clues which were believed to have had the strongest bearing on the case.

The debris, resulting from the fire, was cleaned up Monday by Grandpre and his neighbors. It is announced that the owners of the farm will begin the erection of a new barn and granary at once.

SPECIAL SESSION OF CONGRESS BY JUNE 1

TODAY'S DISPATCHES INDICATE PRESIDENT WILSON IS CONTEMPLATING THE CALL.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS)

Washington, D. C., May 3.—Intimation that a special session of Congress will be called by President to meet about June 1 is contained in confidential dispatches received from Paris today. It was said in authoritative administration quarters that if the situation in Paris develops rapidly the special session might meet before June 1. In that case the call would be made by cable.

It was made clear in today's dispatches that the president was confident it would be possible for him to return to the United States before the end of the month.

WHIPPET TANK TONIGHT

Special Exhibition Train Will Arrive Over Illinois Central This Afternoon

With a little better than $50,000 yet to go, the Kankakee township committee will make the last big effort to put Kankakee over the top tonight. What is promised to be the biggest thing in the way of spectacular advertising yet attempted will be put on tonight when the famous War Relic train carrying the tank "Old Whippet" arrives in town.

The train will arrive on the Illinois Central at 5:45 this evening. The tank that was used in the war will be unloaded and as advertised will make a trip over the business section of the city, headed by the train band.

About 50 people accompany the train and will parade after they get their dinner at the Lafayette Hotel. The promoters of the big time saw the sun come through the clouds at noon they were encouraged in the belief that the loan would go over tonight.

Essex Over Top.

Essex won a Helmet by being the second township to go over the top when the chairman announced at 4:00 o'clock yesterday afternoon that the township had reached its quota of $39,700.00.

Limestone township is practically over the top. Chairman Bratton stated that he believed that the sales when totaled up would show the township as having raised its full quota. Bourbonnais township expects to go over today.

Pass $600,000.00 Mark.

Chairman Smith stated today that Kankakee township had passed far beyond the $600,000.00 and the prospects were good for reaching the $687,000.00 goal this evening. Mr. Smith took in a total of $24,400.00 yesterday which brings Kankakee's total up to $610,350.00.

INJUNCTION GIVEN TO BRICK COMPANY

JUDGE DESELM ISSUES ORDER RESTRAINING COLLECTION OF GENERAL TAX.

Circuit Judge Arthur DeSelm granted an injunction this morning, restraining County Treasurer Al C. Bothfuhr from collecting general taxes, aggregating $1,300 from the Illinois Brick Company at Grant Park. The company claims that the assessment was too high and asked for a restraining order until the matter could be investigated by the courts. Attorney Werner W. Schroeder represents the complainant.

ARRANGE FOR MEMORIAL DAY.

Committees representing the Spanish American War Veterans, the Civil War Veterans, the veterans of the late war and the Woman's Relief Corps met in the Grand Army room at the court house last night to make preliminary arrangements for the observance of Memorial Day.

Some committees were selected and "Dan" Drolet was named as chairman of the parade committee. It is planned to have all returned soldiers to take an active part in the Decoration Day program this year.

STRIPES ARE BED TICKING

HAS PECULIAR CLOTHES

Remark Made To Farm Hand Who Gave Him Ride Arouses Suspicion of Neighbors

Imagine Sheriff William J. Riley's surprise yesterday when he was called to the vicinity of Bourbonnais to arrest a "Joliet escaped convict" in "stripes" and when he discovered the "stripes" were merely a suit of clothes made of bed-ticking.

The call came from Manteno. The informant told Sheriff Riley that his hired man has just hauled a suspicious stranger along the road and that the man evidently was an escaped convict from Joliet penitentiary. Sheriff Riley and Deputy Sheriff J. P. Mann made a hop, skip and a jump into the former's high-powered automobile. They had been told the man was headed toward Bourbonnais and within the blink of an eye the sheriff's car was splitting the air in that direction.

About two miles north of Bourbonnais they met the stranger. He had on the "stripes" all right, but he denied being a convict from Joliet penitentiary. It developed that he was wearing a suit of work clothes, made of heavy bed-ticking which gave him the appearance of either a convict or a zebra. He had told the Manteno farmer that he had come from Joliet, which gave rise to the alarm.

He was brought to Kankakee and placed in the county jail over night. He proved to be a farm hand, who had recently been working near Joliet, but who later was working for a farmer near Manteno, but had gotten out of work and was seeking other employment. This morning he was directed to the United States Employment Bureau, where it was thought he might secure a job.

ROUNDING UP THE SLACKERS

CHAIRMAN RUEL SEEKING THE NAMES OF THOSE WHO DO NOT PURCHASE

VICTORY LOAN BONDS

Sends Out Letters To All Township Chairmen Requesting the Information

Not satisfied with the showing that has been made by some of the townships in the Victory Loan, Chairman Ruel sent letters to the township chairmen today requesting the names of all people in the different townships who are able to purchase Liberty Bonds and have not done so.

"We are through using gentlemanly tactics," declared Mr. Ruel, "we must raise this loan and we are going to do it. Mr. Ruel stated, however, that the weather had been against the campaign and no doubt the rain had retarded the subscriptions to a great extent.

The letter follows:

Kankakee, Ill.,
May 2, 1919

To All Township Chairmen:

In accordance with the wishes of the U. S. Treasury Department I hereby request you, as chairman of your town, to compile a list of names of individuals in your town who are able to purchase bonds of the Victory Liberty Loan and who have either refused or neglected to do so, and mail same to me at your earliest convenience. This list will be sent to the Department and will be available for inspection at any time, and kept for future reference.

Kindly give this matter your immediate attention.

Yours very truly,
Henry F. Ruel,
County Chairman.

HERE FOR SHORT VISIT.

George Rogers, formerly of this city, now located in Chicago, came back to Kankakee for a few hours' visit last night, and paid the Republican a friendly call today.

"ABE MARTIN" IN REPUBLICAN MONDAY NIGHT

FAMOUS HOOSIER CHARACTER IS GOING TO MAKE EXTENDED VISIT HERE

BRADY HEALTH TALKS

Noted Physician and Author Becomes Member of Republican Editorial Staff.

"Abe Martin," the greatest Hoosier of them all, born and raised near Indianapolis and author of the quaintest sayings known to the world, is coming for a long visit in Kankakee.

He is going to talk to every reader of the Republican every evening beginning next Monday. With his long whiskers, bagging trousers and funny feet he will pull into town Monday morning and will make his appearance on the Republican's journalistic stage Monday evening. Just what he is going to say to you, or what kind of didoes he is going to cut in the way of acrobtaic stunts we cannot tell. But he is sure to make you laugh, no matter what he says or does.

At the same time "Abe Martin" arrives in Kankakee, Dr. William Brady, of Chicago, noted physician and lecturer, will join the Republican editorial staff for a series of health talks. Every night Dr. Brady will discuss some health problem and also answer a number of questions that have been asked of him.

Is Medical Authority.

Dr. Brady is known the world over as a front rank authority on health questions and thousands of eyes in Kankakee county will anxiously read what he has to say. It makes no difference whether you are healthy or sick, you will always find something in Dr. Brady's articles that will appeal to you and help you in your little, every-day health problems. If it is the means of preventing a goitre, curing tuberculosis, reducing weight, feeding the baby, caring for the sick infant or what not, you are certain that the subject will be covered some time or other in Dr. Brady's health talks.

Dr. Brady is not an advertizer of any patent medicine, neither will he make a diagnosis or give treatment for any individual case of sickness or disease. His sole mission as a member of the Republican staff is to aid the general public, to make it healthier and therefore happier.

Other Features Coming.

And these are not the only features which the Republican is going to add. From time to time, the management expects to keep in touch with the latest and best features to be had and to give its readers the benefit of all that will entertain and educate.

The Republican already has more paid subscribers than all its competitors combined and the circulation is rapidly increasing. The reason for this is because the Republican is sparing no energy or expense in giving its readers and advertisers double their money's worth. The Republican's A. B. C. statement shows that it had an average of 4,152 paid subscribers during the past six months. No other paper in Kankakee has dared to let the A. B. C. auditors make an investigation of their circulation for the simple reason that al lof their subscribers combined would not equal the number taking the Republican.

Watch for "Abe Martin" and Dr. Brady's health talks Monday evening. We want every reader of the Republican to enjoy the paper. Those who are not reading it now, should join the big army of those who are having the pleasure every evening.

CITY IS SEVENTH IN ENLISTMENTS

TWENTY-THREE MEN ENLISTED IN SERVICE OF THE U. S. DURING MONTH OF APR.

Kankakee stands in seventh place among the cities of the Indianapolis recruiting district in point of men enlisted for the military service during the month of April. During the month just past 23 men have enlisted at the local recruiting office. Major Fellows of the Indianapolis office was in Kankakee today on his regular visit to the station. He brought with him a report that showed that there have been 443 men enlisted for the various branches of the service in April. All of the cities which showed a larger number than Kankakee are cities of much greater population.

Major Fellows stated that the head office was well pleased with the recruiting throughout the district, which is more than twice that of last month.

HAVE COLOR IN CHEEKS

Be Better Looking—Take Olive Tablets

If your skin is yellow—complexion pallid—tongue coated—appetite poor—you have a bad taste in your mouth—a lazy, no-good feeling—you should take Olive Tablets.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—a substitute for calomel—were prepared by Dr. Edwards after 17 years of study with his patients.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. You will know them by their olive color.

To have a clear, pink skin, bright eyes, no pimples, a feeling of buoyancy like childhood days you must get at the cause.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets act on the liver and bowels like calomel—yet have no dangerous after effects.

They start the bile and overcome constipation. That's why millions of boxes are sold annually at 10c and 25c per box. All druggists. Take one or two nightly and note the pleasing results.

FOOD ECONOMY

is obtained by using B. B. CO. FLOUR

In these days of high cost of living every dollar counts—but your dollar can be spent to no better advantage than when you purchase a sack of B. B. CO. FLOUR—for it is a flour that contains the greatest amount of that wonderful health and strength developer—GLUTEN.

Gluten gives to bread—"the germ of life"—and without the proper percentage of it, flour is dear at any price—But why take unnecessary chances—hereafter order only B. B. CO. FLOUR—It's the most economical flour when you consider the health building properties it contains.

Remember B. B. CO. FLOUR contains the greatest amount of high quality gluten.

THINK OF THE MONEY YOU CAN SAVE ON SHOES

Clarence J. Bloenker of St. Louis, Missouri, writes, "I have a pair of shoes with Neolin Soles and have used them for two years. I think they will last another six months."

Mr. Bloenker also recommends Neolin Soles for their comfort and waterproofness.

It is a remarkable fact that Neolin Soles cost no more than others that give only ordinary wear. You can get them on new shoes in many styles for men, women, and children—and they are available everywhere for resoling, too.

And look at the money you save—because you need fewer pairs of shoes with Neolin Soles. Remember—these soles are made by Science to be especially tough and durable. They are manufactured by The Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co. of Akron, Ohio, who also make Wingfoot Heels—guaranteed to outwear any other heels.

WATERWAY MEASURE TO PASS

FINAL ACTION EXPECTED IN THE HOUSE DURING THE COMING WEEK

GREAT POSSIBILITIES

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS)

Springfield, Ill., May 3.—The administration waterways bill, intended to make a connecting link between the Great Lakes and the Gulf which has been passed by the senate and which may come up for final action in the lower house of the legislature next week, will mark a stage of waterways development unprecedented in this section of the country, proponents of the project say. Little opposition is expected in the House.

Illinois will have a route tapping district having 75 per cent of all population. These points will be accessible to deep waterway transportation from the St. Lawrence to the Gulf of Mexico, via the Welland and Soo Canals, the Great Lakes, the Chicago River, the Chicago Drainage Canal, and the Illinois Waterway as the connecting link with the Illinois river and the Mississippi.

Canada has undertaken work of improving the Welland canal to a depth of 24 feet. The new locks at the Soo are 24 feet—the Chicago Drainage canal is 24 feet. The minimum depth of the Illinois Waterway will be 8 feet, but this depth can become greater if desired.

The general route of "The Illinois Waterway" commences at the water power plant of the Sanitary District of Chicago, at Lockport, in Will county and extends to its junction with the Des Plaines River, then via the Des Plaines river and the Illinois and Michigan canal through Joliet, then through the Des Plaines river again direct to the Illinois river to a point at Utica.

What the Illinois waterway will do for Illinois is indicated by what the Erie canal did for New York, waterway leaders say. This short and inexpensive link would open up two waterways across the state of Illinois, one westward to the upper Mississippi, via the Hennepin canal, and the other southward via the Illinois river to the lower Mississippi, the Gulf of Mexico and the other southward via the Illinois river to the lower Mississippi the Gulf of Mexico and the Panama canal.

Cities along these two waterways would be greatly benefitted, but the benefits would by no means be confined to the cities that lie directly on their banks. The Interstate Commerce Commission has power to compel railways to connect their tracks with the docks of water carriers and to join in the making of through routes and joint rates, thus making it possible for cities in all parts of the state to share in the cheap water transportation.

The channel of the Illinois Waterway, where practicable will not be less than 150 feet bottom width. The minimum depth of channel in the earth sections will be not less than 8 feet and in the rock sections not less than 10 feet. The minimum depth over mitre sills of the locks will not be less than 14 feet, and the minimum width of locks, will be not less than 110 feet and the minimum length will not be less than 600 feet in length.

It has been estimated that the work of completing the Illinois waterway could be accomplished in five or six years, and that about the seventh year the earnings from water power would begin to come in. An estimated cost, as shown by a prospectus, follows:

Preliminary waterway, 14 feet deep, with locks 24 feet deep, construction, only $14,218,936.00.

Developing 157,500 gross horsepower house equipment, etc., complete, $3,790,000.00.

Right of way, $340,000.00.

Net interest, account during constructional, $641,014.00.

Total, $20,000,000.00.

The power actually available for distribution in electric current to customers is taken at 110,000 horsepower. The annual revenue when all the power is marketed is given as $2,750,000. This is assumed to exist at the beginning of the tenth year or three years after the power is developed. A financial statement shows that the entire amount paid by the state will have been liquidated in the seventeenth year, or the eleventh year after the construction is completed. From the eleventh year on there will be a profit.

As navigable waterway the completed channel will be under federal control.

The constitutional amendment passed by the voters in the 1908 election provided for the conservation of a natural resource of the State of Illinois—a resource that grows more valuable as the years go by.

The construction, maintenance, control and operation of the Waterway shall devolve upon the Department of Public Works and buildings, subject to conditions which the federal government may impose.

In connection with the Administration Waterway bill, three other measures bearing on the proposed waterway route have passed the senate. They were introduced by Senator Thurlow G. Essington, Republican, of Streator. One provides for the expenditure of $20,000,000,000 to construct the Illinois waterway from Lockport to Utica. Another authorizes $20,000,000 bonds for the waterway and the third calls for a survey of the Illinois and Michigan canal.

All three of Senator Essington's bills have gone to the House.

For President
HON. FRANK O. LOWDEN
of Illinois

GOV. LOWDEN AS A NATIONAL FACTOR.

This caption is found in the Richmond, (Va.) Evening Journal and is followed by an interesting editorial that has to do with our own great Governor Lowden. The Evening Journal's article reproduced below is only one of many similar that have appeared in Southern papers during the past few months. That Governor Lowden is a big national factor has been attested to in thousands of ways by the people of his state. But more than passing significance is to be attached to the fact that Southern newspapers have recognized him as one of the great leaders of the country in national affairs. It is with a feeling of gratitude that the people of Illinois note the growing sentiment in favor of Governor Lowden being the Republican standard bearer in 1920 despite the fact that he has declined to intimate his attitude on the question. Note the open, frank manner of this newspaper published in a state known as the "Mother of Presidents"

Favorite sons are receiving not a little attention in their respective states at this time, with a view to possible political preferment next year when the presidential selection must be made. Out in Iowa Senator Kenyon is held in high regard; in Kansas, Governor Allen is considered a notable factor in the Republican party, and in California Hiram Johnson has a big following, ready to go to the hat for him in 1920. Illinois has a serious candidate in Governor Frank Orren Lowden, whose progressive administration since he was inducted into office in January, 1917, has attracted wide notice in the middle west, far beyond the confines of his state. His loyal support to the federal government was early evinced and, taking no chances with the alien enemies, the new governor made personal appeal to the people to stand by the national administration. "We may have many sympathies" he told the general assembly in his maiden address; "we can have but one allegiance, and that allegiance is to the United States."

At the camps and elsewhere he made many forceful addresses, and that Illinois contributed 314,504 men to the service, of whom 56.6 per cent were volunteers, attests the fine spirit that prevailed. Illinois citizens bought $1,300,000,000 Liberty bonds and contributed $42,000,000 to war relief and recreation agencies, while the state produced farm crops in money value of $879,000,000—the greatest raised by any state. All this Governor Lowden's friends and supporters take pride in pointing out. His administration of state affairs has been marked by progressive legislation, initiated by him, well-managed finances, resulting in a reduction of the tax rate in spite of increased salaries and higher cost of commodities. Features that reveal his forward-looking ideas are the voting of a sixty million dollar bond issue for a good roads program, state supervision for all private banks and passage of the federal prohibition amendment. He has made many excellent recommendations in his second message to the general assembly which, if carried out, will greatly enhance the welfare of the people of the state.

Iowa, naturally takes kindly to Governor Lowden, since his father was a pioneer settler in Hardin county, and Minnesota, his birthplace, is also keenly interested in the progressive executive. Educated at the University of Iowa, largely through his own endeavors, he went to Chicago when he was twenty-five, graduated in the law, was admitted to the bar and became a successful lawyer. In 1896 he married a daughter of the late George M. Pullman, four children resulting from the union. He has been highly honored in his profession, from which he retired in 1900 to devote himself to general farming and livestock breeding. He has served in congress, as Republican national committeeman for Illinois, and as lieutenant colonel of Chicago's crack First regiment, of the Illinois national guard. Elected governor by a maority of 150,000, Illinois has in Colonel Lowden a gifted orator as well as a broad-minded, practical business man. Born in 1861, he is in prime physical condition, due to his outdoor life. With a love for good literature, which includes a close acquaintance with the classics, Governor Lowden is yet a most companionable man and an active member of many societies and clubs. He has all the engaging qualities that should combine to make him a notable contender for the Republican presidential nomination in 1920.

WEATHER BUREAU AIDING IN TRANS-ATLANTIC FLIGHT OF SEAPLANES; METEOROLOGICAL NOTES

Washington, D. C. May 3.—When Columbus and his three caravels sailed westward on the first trans-Atlantic voyage, the great discoverer found that by keeping to the southward he was favored by winds that bore him away from the Old World and toward the Indies.

Now that Columbuses of the United States Navy are preparing to cross the Atlantic in the first journey by airplane—in three big seaplanes—they find that the winds that wafted Columbus are still blowing westward making it impracticable in the present stage of aircraft development to follow the southerly route from America to Europe, even if the great distance were not prohibitive. But they find that farther north, in the latitude of Newfoundland and Ireland, the prevailing direction of the wind is from west to east, and that under good wind conditions they may cut three hours or more from the time that would be required to travel from Newfoundland to Ireland at airplane speed in still air. The same thing applies in an airplane journey from Newfoundland to Portugal by way of the Azores.

Wind is the one element of paramount importance to a successful trans-Atlantic flight, according to Professor Charles F. Marvin, Chief of the Weather Bureau, United States Department of Agriculture. The Weather Bureau, by direction of the Secretary of Agriculture and at the request of the Secretary of the Navy, is aiding the Navy in every possible way to make the first over-ocean journey a success. A friendly co-operation also exists with the meteorological services of Canada and Great Britain and aviators of other nations preparing to make this flight.

Reports from Europe and Ocean.

As part of its work the Weather Bureau is using its daily reports from all its stations in the continental United States to give indications of the most favorable day for the long flight to begin, it has arranged to receive wireless and cable reports from observing stations on the west coast of Europe, from Spitzbergen and Iceland in the North to the Azores in the South; and other reports are to come by wireless from Naval vessels, ranging in class from battleships to submarine chasers, posted on the bosom of the Atlantic. All these reports are to be compared, charted and summaried in Washington by the official forecaster, who, in this case will be Major E. H. Bowie, who was on duty as forecaster for the American Expeditionary Forces in France during the war. His forecasts and detailed advices concerning the meteorological conditions will be transmitted to Willis P. Gregg, a bureau meterologist who has studied extensively the relation of weather conditions to trans-Atlantic airplane flights, and who has gone to Newfoundland, where the American planes are to take the air for overseas after flying from New York, and he is now receiving summaries of daily conditions. Mr. Gregg acts as the point of contact between the Weather Bureau and the naval aviators. He is equipped to tell them not only when no storm is approaching, but to indicate the successive directions toward which an airplane should be headed to keep to a desired course, and also to calculate the assistance that will be furnished by the winds.

Little To Fear From Storms.

As far as storms go, the naval aviators have little to fear. When North America and the Atlantic are clear of great atmospheric disturbances, it is almost sure that an airplane could travel over the whole breath of the ocean, from west to east, without encountering a storm. The reason for that is the eastward drift of the atmosphere, credited sometimes to the revolution of the earth, and regarded as responsible for the invariable tendency of storms in northern latitudes to travel from west to east. A great storm in this country is likely to appear in Europe within a few days—a fact that was put to use during the war by meteorologists with the American Expeditionary Force. Thus, if an airplane gets off from this continent in clear weather and with clear weather ahead, no storm developing after its departure is likely to catch it. On the other hand, an airplane traveling from Europe to America by the northern route would do so under the chance of running into a storm before reaching this side of the Atlantic. Practically all the cyclonic disturbances that move across the United States enter the North Atlantic Ocean slightly to the south of Newfondland.

It is probable the epochal flight will be made at an altitude of from 1,000 to 2,000 feet,—much less than the average maintained on long flights overland. A reason for this is seen in the belief of meteorologists that a trans-Atlantic aviator would not need to fly as high as would a transcontinental aviator in order to derive the greatest possible assistance from the winds. The reason for their belief is that surface winds at sea are nearly twice as strong as those on land, and the increase with altitude over the sea is much less than over the land. The latter increase on this continent, as well as in Europe, is nearly 100 per cent in about 1,600 feet.

Flying Low Less Dangerous.

Whatever the wind direction, say the meteorologists, flying at low levels above the sea would be less dangerous than at similar levels above the land because the air above the sea is less turbulent or "bumpy."

"Marine weather maps," said Mr. Gregg in a recent paper read before the Philosophical Society of Washington, "show that at an altitude of 500 to 1,000 meters (1,600 to 3,200 feet, approximately) conditions are favorable for an eastward trip approximately one-third of the time, the percentage being slightly greater along the northern than along the southern route. At greater altitudes the percentage of favorable days materially increases, especially along the northern route. For the westward trip the percentage of favorable days is so small as to make trans-Atlantic flight in this direction impracticable until the cruising radius of aircraft is increased to such an extent that they are relatively independent of wind conditions.

"All things considered, conditions for an eastward flight are most favorable along the northern course; for a westward flight they are most favorable along the southern course; that is, the prevailing westerlies are less persistent along this course than farther north.

Little Choice in Season.

"There seems to be little choice as to season, for, although the prevailing westerlies are stronger in winter than in summer, yet on the other hand, stormy conditions are more prevalent in winter, and the net results is about an equal percentage of favorable days in the two seasons. Moreover, the greater fog percentage in summer just about offsets the greater percentage of cloudiness in winter. Fog is a disadvantage chiefly because of its interference in making observations with drift indicators. The Newfoundland fogs in general are of small vertical extent and do not extend for inland. They should not, therefore, prove a hindrance to landing, if the landing field is located some distance from the coast."

Near the Irish coast the percentage of days on which fog occurs varies from about 10 per cent in summer to 5 per cent in winter, in contrast to the Newfoundland average of 60 per cent in summer and 20 to 35 per cent in winter. Fogs rarely occur near the Azores or between them and Portugal.

The statements made by the meteorologists in relation to airplanes apply equally well to airships, they say. Airships, however, because of their greater capacity for fuel and their independence of motor power to sustain them, are capable of remaining in the air a relatively long time and are not so vitally dependent upon favorable wind conditions.

Airplane Compasses Lose Precision.

Compasses have been found to lose much of their precision on airplanes, and on trans-Atlantic flights it is believed they would be somewhere near useless. The oscillation of the plane itself is a large deterrent factor, and others are the attraction of the motor or machine material for the needle, and the impracticability of making corrections while making flights at high speeds. Under clear skies sextant observations make possible the correct determinaiton of positions, but in cloudy weather the compass is the only guide unless the aviator can fly high enough to get above the clouds. It is believed necessary that trans-Atlantic airplanes, in the present stage of development, should be in constant touch with ships that could indicate positions by wireless. Developments in wireless have made it possible to tell the direction from which an air message is sent.

The difficulty of accurate flight would be greater if the airplanes were aiming at a comparatively small group of islands, such as the Azores, instead of Ireland or the coast of Europe.

Professor Marvin points out that it would be quite possible for an aviator, flying over the uniform surface of the ocean, to turn his machine unconsciously and fly away from his object. Also, if his machine, making a hypothetical speed of 90 miles an hour, should run into a head wind of 90 miles an hour, he might stay indefinitely in the same position over the ocean. On land an aviator can tell whether a wind is aiding or retarding him, but over the changeless sea, unless there were ships within his vision, he would have little or nothing by which to gauge his progress.

Earth's Motion Deflects Airplane.

Another factor the trans-Atlantic aviator must reckon with, Professor Marvin says, is the deflective influence of the earth's rotation upon airplane flight. Objects moving freely over the earth's surface are deflected constantly to the right.

All the knowledge on this and other factors in the possession of the Weather Bureau and affecting the epochal undertaking has been placed at the disposal of the naval aviators. With the development of trans-Atlantic travel by airplane, the Weather Bureau meteorologists hope there will be opportunity for thorough study of the meteorological conditions affecting it.

"There is need," said Mr. Gregg, "for a comprehensive campaign of meteorological and aerological observations over the North Atlantic in order that aviators may be given data for whose accuracy the meteorologist need not hesitate to vouch. Instead of information based on so small a number of observations, particularly of free air conditions, that the deductions are assumed and not proved."

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

WRITTEN BY THE HIGH SCHOOL CORRESPONDENT.

According to an announcement made by Principal Witmer of the High school, there will be no school next Friday, because of the teachers meeting in Chicago. He stated, however, that there would be school every Friday after that until the end of the school year. Some students were under the impression that there would be no school on the remaining Fridays of the year.

Unless the game is postponed, as the Chicago Heights game was, the high school baseball team will play Waukegan at Waukegan next Friday, May 9th.

The eighth issue of the Kankakeean will appear on sale Wednesday morning, May 7th. The features of the next issue will be a very good story entitled, "When A Fellow Needs A Friend." Also a host of good snappy articles telling of the doings in high school. The Staff will attempt to secure a speaker for Tuesday afternoon in order to boost the sales.

FIRE! No Water—Destruction—WHY?

Get off the hose

When your body is burning, the flame of pain, weakness, disease are destroying your physical frame. There is a cause. There is pressure on the nerve obstructing the flow of water in case of fire and on the nerve in case of pain, weakness and disease.

(1) Showing normal size nerve
(2) Showing pinched nerve.
(3) Showing displaced segment of the spine, causing pressure on the nerve. The result is pain, weakness, disease in that portion of the body to which this nerve is leading and supplying life force to any part of your body as named in the cut.

FACTS WHICH CANNOT BE DENIED

"CHIROPRACTIC is the knowledge—not theory or belief—of philosophy of cause of disease; the science of knowing how and the art or ability to adjust it. The human brain is the dynamo where life currents are concentrated. The spinal cord and nerves are the purveyors of this mental force. If brain absorbs, spinal cord conveys, nerves transmit, and tissues, organs and viscera receive this life current HEALTH is the product. Obstruct the transmission of current and disease is the product. Body plus life equals health. Body minus life equals death. Disease is the abnormal fluctuation between these two quantities caused by varying degrees of pressure upon the nerves, interfering with transmission. A chiropractor knows why, where and how to adjust the "pressure" to permit currents to continue transmission for the purpose of reconstructing disease to health. HEALTH is the restoration of currents, not the stimulation or diminution of how little does exist.

Why Should I Go To A Chiropractor When I Am Not Actually Sick?

Because, "An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure."

Because Chiropractors can remove the cause of disease in its very early stages—before the disease has developed and become apparent to the layman.

If every man, woman and child would go to a good Chiropractor twice a year for examination most of the sickness of the world would be prevented.

Many people follow this policy with their dentist. Do the same thing for your general health.

Come now, before you are sick.

If you desire better health and the cause of your disease or weakness adjusted, consultation and analysis is free.

MORN HILL IS CLEARING STA. FOR AMERICANS

HUGE MILITARY RESERVATION ON HEIGHTS NEAR WINCHESTER

DEMOBILIZATION THERE

Men of American, Who Jained British Forces, Sent Back To the United States

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS).

Winchester, Eng., April 1.—(Correspondence of The Associated Press.)—Morn Hill, one of the huge military reservations on the heights overlooking this picturesque old city, is again an American camp. During the war it was the principal assembly ground in England for American legions on the way to the war. Now it is the clearing station for thousands of battle-worn Americans who are on the way home. They are the men who fought with the British forces.

All the far-flung armies of the empire are contributing to this assemblage. The Americans are coming chiefly from France and the occupation forces in Germany, but large numbers are making longer journeys. Some have served in Palestine, some in Egypt, some in South Africa and others in India. Many are still in the East and others are with the British forces in various parts of Russia. It is reckoned that it will be six or eight months before all can be brought to England.

Meantime, as fast as the Americans arrive in this country they are sent to Winchester and put through the process of demobilization and repatriation. Other camps here are being used to comb out Colonials who served with the English instead of with their own armies.

The majority of the Americans who joined the British forces enlisted in Canada. Most of these are to be sent back, not to the point of enlistment, but to their homes in the States, a stipulation that was generally insisted upon by Americans when they volunteered their services.

Repatriation machinery turns slowly and there often considerable delays, as it frequently happens that a soldier arrives at the camp weeks before his papers filter through the devious channels in which they move. It is only by his papers that a hard task is exercised in this matter for in the British army there have been many instances of soldiers exchanging names and identification disks.

If an American serving with a British regiment wished to remain in England and a British comrade wanted to go to America, it would be easy enough, it was pointed out to the correspondent, for them to swap names and disks, and if the real Tommy was well coached and did not drop too many of his "h's," the scheme might succeed.

After repatriation, the Americans are sent home as soon as transports can be provided at Southhampton, which is only a dozen miles away. Special sailings are arranged for the soldiers who are taking wives back with them.

One husky Michigan lad now at the camp missed his chance to get away with the last shipload of unmarried men by making a sudden entry into the matrimonial state. A day or two before his transport was to sail he was spending the afternoon with an American girl he had met in Winchester. She was from Paterson, N. J., and he called her "Jersey."

"Well, this is good-bye," he said as he was about to return to camp.

Thinking of home dimmed the girl's eyes. "Gee, I wish I was going too!" she exclaimed.

"You mean that, Kid," said the big Middle Westerner.

"I sure do," she replied.

Touched by her tears, he made a quick decision. "All right, come along with me," he said, seizing her arm. He knew where a special license could be obtained, and a few hours later they were man and wife.

In telling the correspondent of his romance, the soldier remarked: "I wouldn't leave a dog on this side that good old Statute of Liberty." He meant no disrespect to his bride.

MANTENO

A largely attended meeting on the good roads proposition was held at the Commercial club rooms last evening. Representatives from Kankakee, Bourbonnais, Rockville and Manteno were present.

Mr. Sam Smith presided with Geo. Jackson as clerk. Wm. Kranig of Kankakee stated his views regarding the situation and freely expressed his wishes for a road that would benefit the entire county and besides give Rockville her desired rights. He said, I have traveled all these proposed routes and I find the one passing the Reedy school house and taking in Rockville is the most profitable to the entire township and community. Other speakers were practically of the same opinion and Attorney Smith, of Kankakee made it more emphatic by a forceful talk.

Delegates were chosen from the different places to go to Springfield and petition for the proposed route. It was an enthusiastic meeting and Rockville came with plenty of ammunition and the Quigley battery had a splendid delivery of sharp shoots.

Mrs. Perkey, Mrs. J. B. Hayhurst and Mrs. Violet, attended the Gold Star Mothers' meeting at Kankakee Saturday.

On Riches.

I cannot call riches better than the baggage of virtue. For as the baggage is to the army, so is riches to virtue. It cannot be spared nor left behind, but it hinders the march; yea, and the care of it sometimes loseth or disturbeth the victory. Of great riches there is no real use, except it be in the distribution; the rest is but conceit.—Bacon.

Quaint Custom.

By a curious old law dating back to 1770 all the grapes left on the vines after the harvest at Beziers, France, go to the poor. If a police officer decided to enforce the law rigidly the owner of the vineyard could at once be haled into court should he attempt to pick the gulls.

BIG BROTHER MEETING, JULY

TO ORGANIZE CATHOLIC FARMERS INTO UNION OF BIG BROTHERS

PURPOSE IS TWO-FOLD

Aid Farmers and Aid Catholic Boys Who Are Without Home; Plans Made Long Ago.

At the Big Brother meeting of the Holy Name Society in Chicago last Sunday, it was definately decided to hold a Big Brother meeting in Kankakee in July for the purpose of organizing the Catholic farmers into unions of Big Brothers. The purpose of the Union will be two fold. It will be an aid to the farmers and it will be an aid to the Catholic boys who are without homes.

There are many Catholic boys each year ordered to the farm by the court. These boys are not criminals but merely lads who do not have homes or whose homes are not the proper places for them. The boys are to be placed with these Catholic farmers where they will work. Thus the farmers will receive help which is badly needed and the boys will have a good home and a profitable wage, decided on by the guardian appointed by the court to look after them.

Plans were made for this organization more than a year ago but due to the epidemic of influenza it was necessary to postpone the meetings.

The War Is Won and the Boys Are Home

Now that Kaiser Bill has been knocked out and the boys who did it are already home or on their way back, it is time for you to look around for a place for them to live. Did you know that while the boys were busy licking the Hun they were being turned out of homes by fire, tornado, time and other destructive agencies? Well, they were and there was no time to rebuild because you were busy with the war. Now there must be One Million homes built before the boys can be properly housed.

Build a Home Now

If you have been thinking of building a home, the time to build is now. Kankakee is short of homes and with a thousand soldiers or more back to civilian life the shortage will be much greater. The prices are high but they are stable and will continue high. Build a home now and add to the prosperity of Kankakee.

THE KANKAKEE CHAMBER of COMMERCE

RE-ENGAGED AS SCHOOL HEAD

PROF. P. O. RILEY RETAINED AS HEAD OF MANTENO SCHOOLS

AT INCREASED SALARY

Manteno Schools Declared To Be Among Farthest Advanced In County.

At a meeting of the Board of Education of Manteno, P. O. Riley, the popular superintendent of schools at that place was engaged again as superintendent of city schools at a salary of $2,500 per year which is the highest salary paid to any school man outside of the City of Kankakee. The people of Manteno were unanimous in their demand for the services of Prof. Riley and the board decided upon the increase.

This is the highest salary paid to any school man outside of the city of Kankakee in Kankakee county. The raise was one of the record breakers which shows that the trend is toward raising the salaries of educators. The superintendent of the Grant Park schools now receives $2400 as against $1800 last year. The rapid advance made in educational lines in the way of salaries is shown when it is remembered that five years ago the superintendent of the Grant Park schools received 1,100 and the superintendent of the Manteno schools received $1,400.

Manteno Schools Progressive

During the past year the Manteno city school has been among the most progressive in this section. Manteno is at present the only high school in the county which has military training. Manteno was the first city to engage a community or visiting nurse for the schools with the possible exception of the city of Kankakee where the school board employed a nurse for a short time shortly after the epidemic of infantile paralysis.

Prof. Riley announced today that he expected to establish a class in agriculture at the Manteno schools for the coming year.

GIVE RETURNED YANKS A HOME

BEST KIND OF WELCOME IS A BETTER HOME TO LIVE IN

TOO FEW GOOD HOUSES

Construction of Homes Will Mean More Jobs For the Home-Coming Soldier.

Kankakee is getting ready to give the soldier the right kind of a welcome when he comes marching home.

It is doubtful if ever in the history of the country, were there so many minds at work and so many different forms of entertainment being devised to show the returning soldier that he is welcome and that the nation appreciates what he has done.

Kankakee is getting ready to welcome her returned soldiers in a substantial sort of way and is already doing it in a way which most people have probably never thought of as a welcome at all except in an abstract sort of a way.

Will Give Him A Home.

In addition to all the other forms of welcome which a grateful citizenship can devise, Kankakee is going to welcome her soldiers by giving them better homes when they return than they had when they left. Possibly many people have never thought just what this will mean to the soldier who is returning from a land of poor abodes or who is getting back from the camp where a dug out or a pup tent was all the shelter he knew.

Kankakee had none too many homes when the boys left and considering the fact that every available house in the city is filled right now with over half of its soldiers yet in foreign countries, one stops to puzzle over just what would have happened had all of these men returned and found the city with no more houses than when they left two years ago.

But a wise "hunch" came to the citiens of Kankakee and they have started to build homes so that the city will retain all the people who have come here since the beginning of the war and make way for all of the boys when they come back.

If any one thinks that this is far fetched, let him look into the reports of government investigators. The country is short at least 1,000,000 homes and there are nearly 3,000,000 men left in the army. Ask yourself the question of what is going to become of these men when they fold up their tents and go back to houses to live. It is as if their homes had been burned while they were in the service and not replaced.

It can mean but one thing and that is that more homes are going to be built everywhere. Kankakee county alone has a thousand soldiers yet in the service, and a large percent of these are from the city of Kankakee.

Not only will this welcome be here for the soldier, but he will be met at the station by a good job, when this building starts right. Every industry in the city wants more men and every trade is asking for extra workers.

A good home and a good job will welcome the soldier.

Better build now.

MAD RUSH ON FOR DIVORCES

ALMOST HALF OF NEW CASES FOR MAY ARE SUITS OF THIS CHARACTER

REASON IS ASSIGNED

Only Sixteen New Common Law Matters Are Placed On File In Clerk's Office.

Out of forey-eight new chancery cases filed for the May term of the circuit court, 23 are for divorce, separate maintenance or annulment of marriage.

Quite a number of people are wondering why all this mad rush for divorces.

Wants know the reason?

Here it is:

So long as the war was going on, quite a number of these mismated women were willing that their name should be Mrs. Smith, Mrs. Jones or whatever the case might be for the simple reason that they were drawing a monthly allotment from their husband's salary while he was in the army service.

With the war over, however, and the husband discharged from the service, the allowance or allotment is cut off and the money is not flowing in as freely as it was during the war. Therefore there is no longer any reason for being Mrs. Smith, Mrs. Jones, or whatever the case might be, hence the suit for divorce.

Out of 48 chancery cases, 21 are asking for divorce, one is seeking separate maintenance and one asks that the marriage be annuled.

Business on the common law side of the docket evidently has not been stimulated since the close of the war as there were only 16 new suits of this character filed for the May term.

LIVE SAINT WILL SPEAK AT M. E. CHURCH TONIGHT

Usually we think of the saints as belonging to a far away time or world and we do not discover that they were saints until after they are gone. Tomorrow evening a woman will visit our city who is giving her life without remuneration to taking care of God's little ones. When Mrs. T. W. Asher went to Normal to take care of the Baby Fold, it had a small building in debt and about twenty little children. Under her sacrificing leadership it has grown until it has two commodious buildings housing nearly a hundred little orphans and many others have been placed in Christian homes. They work among all races and religions, considering only the need. She will speak tomorrow evening at the First Methodist church. An offering will be taken for the support of this work. Any wishing to contribute that may not find it possible to be present are requested to bring their offering in an envelope and place it in the morning offering marked "Baby Fold", or call the Pastor by phone and he will see that your offering is called for.

COMMITTEE APPOINTED

To Go To Springfield and Present Arguments Relative Road Near Manteno

Representatives of four townships met in the club rooms of the Manteno Chamber of Commerce last night to make their influence felt in planning the route of the Federal aid road that is to be built through Kankakee county.

Kankakee, Bourbonnais, Manteno and Rockville and were represented at the meeting and the meeting was unanamous for a route that will go through Rockville township rather than through Peotone as another faction plans. The State Highway Commission has not definitely decided upon the route that the road will take but leaves the question open to the decision of the people.

Committee To Springfield.

It was decided that a committee consisting of two men from each township of the four named should go to Springfield next Wednesday where arguments will be presented for the route through Rockville.

At the meeting at Manteno last night Mayor Smith of that place acted as chairman with George Jackson as secretary. Attorney A. E. Smith and W. C. Kranz of Kankakee represented this city. Mr. Kranz stated that in going over the road he had found the route past the Beedy school house a half mile west of Manteno to be the best.

James Mallaney spoke for Bourbonnais township, James Quigley for Rockville, George Jackson and Verne Beedy for Manteno. All were in favor, of the so-called Rockville route.

PERSONALS

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph L. Prestin, 378 West Water street, will spend Sunday in Chebanse, the guest of relatives.

LED TO RESCUE BY DREAM

Tug Captain's Confidence In Vision He Had Proved Fortunate for Two Fishermen.

Guided by a dream, Capt. Adam Paczocha of a Lake Michigan tug found two men who had been drifting about helpless in a broken motor-launch for four days. The rescue was just in time to save the men's lives, for the feet of one were frozen and the other's hands were frostbitten and they were exhausted from cold and hunger.

Captain Paczocha had his dream while taking a nap at his home in Milwaukee one afternoon. When he awoke he described to his family how he had seen a launch drifting about helpless in the storm-swept lake and how he had swung his boat alongside and saved two men.

"I'm going to find them," said the captain, after telling of the dream vision.

He set out the next morning and by midafternoon he had located the launch. The two men in the launch were George Costigan and Joseph Budsiecz, Jones Island fishermen who had met with misfortune while out hauling in their nets. Driven about by a sudden storm that arose on the lake they sought to make shore until the gasoline engine in the launch gave out. Then they drifted about helpless.

The rescued men's first request was for cigarettes. They had been unable to smoke for four days because their matches had become wet.

IMPORTANT DATE IN HAWAII

Modern History of Islands May Be Said to Have Begun on October 23, 1819.

The one hundredth anniversary of the departure of the first missionaries from the United States to the Sandwich islands, as they were then known, will be celebrated at Honolulu, October 23. On that date in the year 1819, the brig Thaddeus, Captain Hunnewell, sailed from Boston for Hawaii. The vessel anchored at Kailua, Kona, Island of Hawaii, April 5, 1820, and the missionaries landed that day to begin their work of civilizing the natives and converting them to Christianity. Those who arrived in Hawaii on the Thaddeus were Asa Thurston and Hiram Bingham, ordained missionaries, with their wives; Daniel Chamberlain, Thomas Holmes, Samuel Whitney, Samuel Ruggles, Elisha Loomis and four Hawaiians—Honolii, Hopu and Kanui—who had received some education at Cornwall institute, and George Humohumo, son of Kaumuali, the king of the Island of Kaual. The Hawaiians had been taken to the United States in trading vessels. Traders and whalers had been visiting Honolulu for some years before the arrival of the missionaries, but it is from the latter event that the modern history of Hawaii dates.

Wonderful Slot Machine.

Most people are familiar with the machines which sell chocolate and chewing gum. An interesting development in this field is a large apparatus that dispenses bottled beverages, sandwiches and chewing gum. Its cooling chamber has space for the accommodation of 96 bottles, while a precooling compartment, in which bottles are chilled by immersion in the water that drains from the ice, has an equal capacity. In order to encourage patrons to return empty bottles to the machine a stick of gum is discharged when a bottle is placed in the receiver provided for it. A counterfeit detector rejects spurious coins. A complete record of all transactions is kept by a sales-registering mechanism. The only attention the machine requires is that involved in stocking and icing it.

Untasted Emergency Ration.

A correspondent, writing from the front before the fighting came to an end, said that the emergency ration supplied to our soldiers still remained a mystery to them. Few indeed have even tasted this scientific life-saver of which the army boards are so proud.

It looks like ground oatmeal; but it is said to be the last word in concentrated calories and protein. It contains the juices and sustaining parts of all meats and vegetables known to man, with a little gluten thrown in. Most soldiers have not dared to taste it. A court martial threatens anyone who eats the emergency ration unnecessarily, and almost never, so they say, did any soldier find it necessary. Hot meals from rolling kitchens were virtually always to be had.—Youth's Companion.

Farm Products by Parcel Post.

Wilmington, Del., is to receive farm products by parcel post truck service. The service between that city and Salisbury, Md., began recently, two large army trucks bearing eggs, butter, fish, oysters, crabs, berries and such direct from land or sea to the consumer. Stops are made at every town along the route which can claim a post office. Provision has also been made for acceptance of parcel post material for New York, transfers to be made at Chester; and through truck service from Wilmington to Philadelphia will be established.

A Little Learning.

"Do you subscribe to the theory that a little learning is a dangerous thing?"

"Yes," replied Gadspur. "I thought I knew enough about my automobile to take it apart and put it together again, but this bill of $154.17 from a repair shop proves that I didn't."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

MAY TERM TO OPEN MONDAY

CIRCUIT JUDGE ARTHUR DESELM ANNOUNCES SCHEDULE FOR MONDAY

JAY MERRILL MEMORIAL

Bar Association To Pay Tribute To Departed Judge; Grand Jury To Start Work.

The May term of the Kankakee County Circuit court will open Monday morning with Judge Arthur DeSelm presiding. Judge DeSelm, who arrived home from Joliet last night and was in his office this morning, announced the scheduled for Monday.

The court will open Monday morning at 9 o'clock and the first thing on the calendar will be the calling of the docket. All members of the bar association have been notified to be present for the calling of the docket.

Following this procedure, the Kankakee County Bar Association will sit on solemn session as a memorial tribute to the memory of the late County Judge J. H. Merrill. The committee on resolutions will present the association tribute, which will be ordered enscrolled upon the court record.

The remainder of the day will be taken up with naturalization matters and indications are that the mill will grind out quite a large number. Ever since the government began putting a tax on incomes of aliens, there has been quite a demand for naturalization papers and the number is increasing rapidly.

The May grand jury will be impaneled about 11 o'clock and will receive its usual instructions from Judge DeSelm. The petit jury is not scheduled to meet until Tuesday morning, which will be the first trial session of the term.

So long as the weather remains damp and cold, as it has been for the past week, Judge DeSelm predicts that considerable headway can be gained in court matters. But with the clearing of the skies and warmer weather, it is certain that many farmers will be anxious to get busy with their crops and will be adverse to occupying their time on juries or other court matters.

The court calendar calls for four weeks of jury service, which means the calling of two separate panels for two week's service each. Unusually however, the last panel is not compelled to give continuous service for the entire two weeks.

INJURED MAN IS FROM STREATOR

JAMES TURK IS NAME OF THE STRANGER FOUND ALONG THE RAILROAD TRACKS.

The man who was found lying near the New York Central tracks yesterday morning and taken to Police Headquarters in an unconscious condition was identified this morning as James Turk of Streator, Ill.

Dr. Eugene Cohn of the State Hospital examined the man yesterday afternoon and ordered him taken to the state institution for observation and treatment. A search of his clothing revealed to the police a telegram from his wife at Streator. Chief Kershaw wired the man's father at Streator and he came here where he identified the injured man as his son.

Turk seems to be in a critical condition and will not talk of the accident. It is feared that he was partly paralyzed. It is believed that he was intoxicated and fell from a train or possibly may have received his injuries in a fight. He had been drinking alcohol, it is believed.

He will be kept at the hospital until his condition is improved.

Is the League of Nations a Workable Plan?

By CLARENCE L. SPEED
(Written for and Approved by the Illinois Branch of League to Enforce Peace.)

It is a remarkable fact that, in all the opposition that has come out to the ratification of the peace treaty containing the draft of the league of nations as it stands, scarcely a single responsible American statesman has come out flatly against the principle of a league to enforce peace.

Many have expressed serious doubts as to whether or not it would work. Others have said that this was not the time to establish it, and that it should wait until after peace was signed. Still more have pointed out this difficulty and that; and, because the American people are very largely headline readers, the impression has gone out that a great number of senators are unalterably opposed to any sort of a league of nations whatsoever.

There is no doubt that some of these objections to the ratification providing for a treaty are sincere. Some of them may not be. But the fact remains that nearly all these statesmen who depend upon the people for votes have left open a way of retreat so that, if it finally develops that public sentiment demands the league it can never be shown that they were unalterably against it.

There are many, on the other hand, who have so definitely committed themselves to the idea of a league of nations that they leave no loophole through which they may crawl if the idea is not favored by American voters. They have the courage of their convictions. They are content that their records stand or fall on their records.

Such a man is William Howard Taft, formerly president of the United States. By no stretch of the imagination could he be considered as backing a league of nations favored by President Wilson through partisan motives. Here is what Mr. Taft had to say in a public speech at Helena, Mont., the day after he had had the opportunity of reading the draft of the constitution of the league of nations as cabled from Paris:

"As lovers of your country and as lovers of mankind I ask you to use all your influence with our senators to have the treaties embodying the league of nations idea ratified. It is a real league of nations. It is not all that I wished, but comes near. It is a great deal better than I hoped. It contains within its terms provisions for its own growth. Indeed the exigencies of the European situation is the sphere of the league will probably require additional and more stringent provisions in some respects than appear in the present plan."

"There should be no doubt of its approval by the senate when it is embodied in the treaty."

Mr. Taft evidently is convinced that the league will work. President Wilson believes it will work. Lloyd George believes it will work. Even Clemenceau of France believes it will work. It has the complete support of the Italian government, which believes it will work. The little nations turn to it as their only hope of safety. They believe it will work.

If all of these people and these nations believe the league will work how can it fail to work? The only apparent chance of its failing to work would be in case there were enough strong powers against it, while it is young and untried, to keep it from working. But here you find the powers all for it. Who is going to try to upset it—some power like Liberia, or a beaten and helpless Germany? Why, even Germany now hopes it will work and work in a hurry, for without it there is no limit to the penalties that victorious neighbors might impose.

And the peoples of the world, even more than the governments, want it to work. Mothers and fathers whose sons are buried by the million on the battlefields of Europe are for it. Women who have suffered violence at the hands of invading armies, or who have fled headlong from their homes to avoid it, pray that it may become operative. Workmen who are hungry because factories are closed see in it a preventive of wars. People who have seen their savings jeopardized or swept away stand behind it.

No one, apparently, wants it to fail, yet there are some who doubt its success because, by careful searching, they can find difficulties in the way.

They may be of good cheer, and you may rest at ease, too, because, if by any chance this league which everybody wants should fail to work, there is nothing to prevent you fighting for your rights just as you did in the past.

The United States faced a world in arms with very little preparation for war. She can face a world leagued for peace with an army or navy just as large or small as she chooses. There is not even the most remote probability of the United States ever fighting the league, unless it, too, becomes insane and needs a licking. If it does become necessary for her to fight nations which cannot be controlled by the league, there is nothing to prevent her from doing so.

Further information regarding the league of nations, including pamphlets of the covenant of the league and speeches made in its behalf, may be obtained at the office of the Illinois state branch of the League to Enforce Peace, 842 Monadnock block, Chicago, Ill.

Good and Bad Effects of Tea.

The action of tea as a stimulant on the brain is well known. Tea causes a slight rise in the blood pressure, gives a fillup to the heart, causes somewhat deeper breathing and restores for a spell waning muscular power. Its chief demerit is the retarding influence that it exerts upon digestion.

WOUNDED MEN BOOSTING LOAN

"Wheel Chair Division" One of Most Direct Appeals To the "Stay At Homes."

MANY NEVER TO WALK

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS)

Chicago, May 3.—The first parade in this country made up exclusively of wounded soldiers, most of whom are Chicagoans was held here today. More than 2,000 men from the Fort Sheridan and the Cooper-Monitau general hospitals filed through the downtown district in the interest of the victory loan campaign.

The "wheel chair division" consisting of men who may never walk again, was one of the most direct heart appeals to Chicago's wartime "stay at homes." Many of the boys had two or three wound stripes while some had only one.

Lieut Col. Tom Hammond, late of the 149th field artillery, assisted by line officers from the sergeon-generals office and hospitals, was marshal of the parade, formed in two groups, one from Fort Sheridan and the other from the south side hospital. Those who were not able to walk were transferred from trains to motor cars for the parade. The Fort Sheridan men were under command of Col. W. H. Bisham, senior officer of the hospital, and those of the south side hospital under Lieut Col. Darby, commanding officer of that institution.

After the parade the marchers were massed at the Victory forum here while five combined bands played the national anthem and other songs. The boys were then entertained at a chicken dinner served by mothers recruited from the Chicago Women's clubs. Later they were to be transported to the White Sox park to see the American League game.

A dance will be given here tonight for all men in uniform whether wounded or not.

Elias Kennedy of Wayneboro, Va., who was called to Danforth by the death of his brother, H. C. Kennedy, is now visiting his niece and family, Mrs. J. E. Farrar of 158 E. Locust street. He has now started on his trip homeward.

CHARLES GEBHARDT, WELL KNOWN CITIZEN OF CABERY, WHO WAS BURIED ON SUNDAY

Funeral services for the late Charles Gebhardt, well known business man and citizen of Cabery, were held in that town last Sunday at the late home at 2 o'clock, conducted by Rev. Elisha A. Hoffman, pastor of the Presbyterian church. Interment was made in Mount Hope cemetery.

Charles Gebhardt was born in Schoeningen, Brunskick, Germany, Dec. 20, 1852. After leaving school he worked as a cabinet maker for four years. On May 2, 1864, he sailed with his parents and their family to the United States and they located in Odell, Illinois. For a number of years he worked at the cabinet-making trade in Memphis, Tennessee, and then returned to Odell and opened a furniture store, pursuing the business there for three years. He then went to Cabery, Illinois, established a furnitre and undertaking business, which he continued for the remainder of his life.

In 1878 he was married to Bertha Metzka. Eight children were born to them, four of whom are deceased —Rosa, Fred, Arthur and an infant, also one grandson. The four who, with the widow survive, are Lillian at home, Frank, of Chicago Heights; Mrs. Minnie Ferden, of Cabery, and Elmer, of Chicago. Mr. Gebhardt had been in poor health for four years, and died at 9 a. m., April 25, 1919, after an illness of three days, at the age of 67 years, 4 months and 3 days. Five brothers and two sisters also survive him: Theodore, of Sterling, Illinois; William and August of Odell, Scotia, Nebraska; Mrs. Geo. Scott, of Greeley, Nebraska; and Mrs. Augusta Wright, of Oklahoma City, Oklahoma.

Mr. Gebhardt was a diligent business man and prominent in the early life of the community. He held the offices of mayor and alderman to the satisfaction and approval of the people. In the various enterprises for the upbuilding of the village at that time, he was always active. As a member of the village board and a trustee he made it his business to see that the interests of the community were protected. He was a man of public spirit, and labored faithfully for public improvements. Those who knew him most intimately appreciated him most fully.

The sympathy of the entire community goes out to the remaining members of the household, and to all who mourn his departure.

In addition to the members of the immediate family, those from a distance attending the funeral were the brothers: Theodore, of Sterling, Ill., Fred and William, and the latter's son William, of Odell, Ill., and August of Scotia, Nebr.; the following nieces and nephews: Mrs. Bertha Lewis and daughter, Bessie, of Pontiac, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Gebhardt and child, of Joliet, and Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Gebhardt and son, of Odell. The deceased was a brother-in-law and uncle of the following who were also present: Mrs. Mary Lake and daughters, Miss Eva and Mrs. John Moore; Mrs. Wm. Gigl, daughter, Mrs. Herman Bruggert, and sons, Earl and Henry and their wives; Mrs. Gustie Schiller and daughter, Mrs. Vincent Fletcher, and Mr. and Mrs. Orie Schiller, all of Kankakee; and Albert Metzka of Custer Park, Mrs. Carl Kalpenberger of Kankakee, Mesdames John Hayhurst, Margaret Hinkle and Asa Styles, of Momence, Mrs. P. O. Ferden and Mr. and Mrs. Sam Johnson of Herscher.

AMUSEMENTS

GAIETY.

The impersonation of a dead man by one who would be accused of his murder if the death were known, is the novel situation that forms the basis of "The Fire Flingers," Rupert Julian's latest Universal picture, which will be shown at the Gaiety Theatre Saturday, Sunday and Monday, May 3, 4 and 5.

Julian plays both the dead man and the impostor. The picture is based on a Saturday Eevening Post Story of the same name by William J. Neidig.

Richard Olwell, a publisher who is about to desert his wife for another woman, taking $200,000 for his wife's money, is killed by accident, but in such a manner that Richard Hatton, a convict just released from prison, will be under suspicion of killing him. Realizing this, and to save himself and his fellow-convict, Chris Cotteril, from the electric chair Hatton impersonates the dead man, whom he closely resembles. He is aided in this by the fact that he and Olwell both for beards and Olwell had announced his intention of removing his.

The emotional appeal of the story lies in Hatton's relations with Olwell's wife, and another element of suspense lies in the disappearance of the $200,000. The play works up to a tremendous climax.

In the cast with Julian—who also directed the picture, are Jane Novak, Fay Tincher, Fred Kelsey, Clyde Fillmore, Fritzie Ridgeway and E. A. Warren. Waldemar Young wrote the scenario.

MAJESTIC.

Thirty funmakers, headed by Jack Trainor, Olga DeBaugh and the Canfield Twins, and including a chorus of a dozen delightful dearies, will be seen and heard with "The Gold Dust Twins" at the Majestic next Sunday, May 4. There are ten variegated and magnificent scenes in the new musical comedy craze, ranging from South Africa to the North Pole. Beautiful costumes, elaborate electrical effects, sixteen tuneful musical numbers, and a surplus of singing, dancing and laughter, make "The Gold Dust Twins" the most elaborate musical show ever offered at popular prices.

De Koven Opera Co.

The De Koven Opera Company is coming to the Majestic theatre in a big city production, the romantic comic opera, "Robin Hood." Of course, you know all about this tremendously successful American comic opera—How the Bostonians sang it 4,000 times in the big cities. It's "O Promise Me," "Armourer's Son" and others.

Things American are booming now and "Robin Hood" has come into its own in New York where the Park Theatre is jammed, and tickets sold weeks ahead.

This is at least one big producer who has faith in us and the folks in other cities of the size of ours and he is sending this great company out where it is wanted.

In speaking of it yesterday, manager Schafer said:

"Of course you'll attend when it comes—you always do when anything worth while comes, but here's the rub. We must know you will before we can secure it. If we do our part on this production, we will get others like it occasionally, instead of having to wait until we go to some city. Let's have city things. We can if we will."

PERUNA and MANALIN Cured Me

Mrs. E. M. Harris, R. R. No. 3, Ashland, Wis., sends a message of cheer to the sick:

"After following your advice and using Peruna and Manalin, I was cured of catarrh of the nose, throat and stomach, from which I had suffered for several years. When I commenced taking Peruna I could not make my bed without stopping to rest. Now I do all my work and am in good health. I recommend this valuable remedy to all suffering from any disease of the stomach."
